

Vital tourism revenue lost due to poor train services

■ VETERANS raised a cheer to celebrate the Ministry of Defence granting £10,000 to support Weymouth and Portland's annual Armed Forces Day celebrations.

The event, which will take place from June 21st-27th, has been officially launched at Weymouth Pavilion.

VITAL tourism revenue is being lost after station staff on the Bristol-Weymouth line had to prevent passengers boarding some trains because there weren't enough carriages.

Those lucky enough to get seats could only watch as their train was delayed while staff prevented scores of passengers from getting on board to ensure that what carriages had been provided were not overloaded.

Now Weymouth and Portland tourism spokesman Councillor Ian Bruce has called on First Great Western, which runs the service, to provide more carriages for services on the busy route during peak times such as Christmas, Easter and the summer holidays.

He said: "Successive MPs have fought to ensure we have a fully modernised line and it is very important for the future of the railways as well as our tourism industry that both railway lines coming to Weymouth are fully utilised.

"It cannot be in anybody's interests to have people turn up for trains

by Harry Walton

and not be able to get on or, if they are on, to suffer a nightmare journey standing in cramped conditions.

"Clearly turning away passengers bound for Weymouth cost us money as a resort and it also meant those passengers were inconvenienced and will perhaps think twice about using the line in future.

"There is also the question of our attempts to retain the Condor ferry service since a reliable railway link is essential to its viability and to maintaining Weymouth's advantageous and popular position as a port particularly with the Channel Islands."

FGW media relations manager James Davis said: "We are sorry if customers were unable to board their first choice service on this day.

"We regularly add additional carriages to timetabled services, accommodating increases in demand. However our ability to do so on this day was curtailed by competing events with Bristol Rovers playing Portsmouth in Portsmouth and home rugby fixtures for both Bath and Exeter Chiefs.

"Addressing the anticipated increase in summer demand, various weekend services will see additional carriages from May 19th and we are also to run an additional Saturday only Bristol to Weymouth High Speed Train. The eight carriage service will depart Bristol Temple Meads at 9.05am

TRACY Stagg was born in Gosport, Hampshire, and was variously a wages clerk, an optician's receptionist and a bookmaker's clerk. She married, had a son and moved to Weymouth in 1987, working as a clerk at Ladbrokes before she came to the current CLIC Sargent charity shop as deputy manager in 1994. She has been manager since 2008.

■ WHY do you live on Portland?

I just love it there. I think it is the best place in the world, wonderful. Every time I go home from work, Portland seems a bit different when I arrive back.

■ Where do you go for your holidays?

My husband and I usually try to take a break in Devon or Cornwall. That is our favourite part of the country. It is lovely down there.

■ WHAT is your favourite time of the year?

I love the spring. The emerging growth, all the flowers. I love flowers and everyone is so cheerful to see the sun again.

■ WHAT is your favourite film?

Any Harry Potter film. I really love them all because it is pure escapism and good triumphing over evil.

■ What is the scariest thing that has ever happened to you?

My son having cancer. He was eight when he got it, he is clear now and 32 years old, but it still makes me cry now to think of what happened.

■ IF YOU could live your life again what would you do differently?

I would go to university. I don't know what I would do there, but I have always wanted a better education.

■ WHICH three people would you invite to your dream dinner party?

I would invite Jesus because I am a committed Christian and I would invite the author Ken Follett because I read a lot and he is my favourite author.

The third person I would invite would be Richard Branson because he thinks outside the box and he has some great ideas.

■ WHAT would you do if you won the Lottery?

I would buy a nice new house on Portland, have a wonderful holiday visiting relatives in America and I would make a big donation to charity.

■ WHAT do you hope the future holds?

Better health for me because I have arthritis and a better world for everyone.

New project to help businesses grow

A MAJOR new project has been launched across Weymouth and Portland to help create employment.

WSX Enterprise will assist those wanting to start businesses and support those who have already begun without charge.

Financed by the European Regional Development Fund, the project will run a series of events, workshops and meetings designed to give practical help and advice.

Named "Driving Urban Enterprise", the project will target those areas of higher unemployment

by Harry Walton

across the conurbation.

WSX Enterprise is Dorset's leading provider of business support services and has also launched the programme across Bournemouth and Poole.

The organisation, which previously delivered the Business Link service, can also help access finance via the Government's Start Up Loan scheme.

While eligibility criteria apply, people from Weymouth and Portland are encouraged to get in touch.

Programme manager Chris Darlow said: "Having been awarded the funding to launch this exciting project we're determined to assist as many people as possible to both create businesses and jobs.

"We want to help people who have both the aspiration and the potential to start a sustainable business.

"Our project team have extensive experience of starting and growing their own businesses and understand the challenges that new entrepreneurs face.

"Our focus will be on providing 'real world' practical support with a flexible approach.

"There are three main elements to this project: to support the creation of new enterprises, to help recently started businesses and to assist those more established businesses to grow.

"Activities range from two hour workshops through to two-day training workshops. We will also be running networking sessions and one-to-one meetings with experienced advisors.

"For established businesses we are able to offer a high quality mentoring service through our partners at Dornen, the Dorset Mentoring Service.

"Our emphasis is on creating employment by supporting those in the early stages of their business careers.

"So if you are an individual with an idea for a business, or are a business looking to grow, get in touch to see if we can help."

The project is supported by numerous private and public sector organisations including Weymouth and Portland council and Dorset Community Action.

Councillor cleared of sex offences

A COUNCILLOR said he is trying to rebuild his life after a "nightmare" court case.

Ryan Hope was cleared of eight sex offence charges including rape of a child under 13, but he first had to endure a four-day trial at Bournemouth Crown Court where he faced allegations relating to one complainant. The jury took barely half an hour to find him not guilty.

Mr Hope said: "I'm relieved that this nightmare is over and I am now looking forward to trying to rebuild my life.

"The allegations have caused my life to be on hold for the last 16 months and meant I have had to give up much of what I enjoy doing within my community and many positions that I have worked hard to achieve

"Without the support I have received from family, friends, colleagues and the community over the last 16 months I don't know how I would have got through this."

He paid tribute to the backing he received throughout the trial from supporters who packed the court, but he said the allegations had taken their toll on his health and well being.

Weymouth and Portland's youngest councillor, who had some of his teeth knocked out in an assault following an early hearing at Dorchester Crown, said he now feels unsettled in crowds of people. His attacker was found guilty and served a short prison sentence.

Mr Hope, who resigned from the Liberal Democrats to become an Independent councillor while the legal process took place, said it was not the only time people took the law into their own hands and judged him prior to a court of law.

He said: "Now this ordeal is over I'm looking forward to rebuilding my life and continuing with my community and charity work.

"I am in talks with the Liberal Democrats to re-join them and have my membership reinstated although I am still angered at the lack of support from the party head office.

"I owe it to the Weymouth and Portland Liberal Democrats who have supported me and the residents of Westham North who elected me as a Liberal Democrat to council. "I'm also looking forward to diving back in to my community work such as the carnival and Westham Community Group to name a few."

■ OFFICIALLY launching Armed Forces Day celebrations

MOD back Armed Forces Day celebrations with £10k funding

VETERANS raised a cheer to celebrate the Ministry of Defence granting £10,000 to support Weymouth and Portland's annual Armed Forces Day celebrations.

The event, which will take place from June 21st-27th, has been officially launched at Weymouth Pavilion.

The celebrations will welcome thousands of veterans, residents and visitors to a packed programme of military and veterans' commemorations and celebrations.

The borough's biggest event will include a service of remembrance, a seafront veterans' parade, displays and activities recognising the 100th anniversary of the start of World War I and the 70th anniversary of D-Day.

There will also be a beach assault and bridge building exercise and a military vehicle convoy travelling from Weymouth Esplanade to Castletown on Portland.

During the festival there will also be a flypast by a historic WW II Spitfire plane and marching and performing bands will play. The Band of HM Royal Marines, Plymouth will lead the Sunday parade.

Weymouth and Portland events manager Charlie Sheppard said: "This is our 20th Armed Forces Week, so getting £10,000 from the Ministry of Defence is a national endorsement of just how important the event has become.

"This week is all about paying tribute to veterans the sacrifices they made for this country and continue to make for our community.

"The success of the event is down to the support of the many local veterans and their associations."

Wyke Regis Bridging Camp will again be supporting the event and Commandant Ian Drummond RE said: "It will be the 20th consecutive year that we have assaulted Weymouth Beach!

"It is a really important part of our support for the local community because thousands of people see us in action.

"Many sappers train at Wyke Regis and this is our opportunity to show what we can do.

"This year's unit supporting the event is 26 Engineer Regiment, Tidworth, and they will provide the enemy, the attack force and the bridging team."

Weymouth and Portland leisure and tourism spokesman Councillor Ian Bruce said: "Weymouth set the standard for Armed Forces Day celebrations and this grant helps us to continue that tradition."

Train services inconsistent

and from Weymouth at 5.28pm."

Weymouth and Portland transport spokesman Councillor Christine James said: "I have been on local train services recently where there were clearly not enough carriages.

"This does no favours to Weymouth as a tourist resort, so anything FGW can do to improve services and increase carriage numbers has got to be welcomed.

"I do wonder sometimes whether train company executives ever actually travel on trains because it has to be common sense that at busy times of the year you use the maximum number of carriages you can, so if the Government is not supplying enough carriages to be leased then it needs to change its approach."

£50,000 trim for Dorset's verges

WITH summer just around the corner, and the mild and wet spring causing rapid growth, Dorset County Council is gearing up to keep roadside verges in top condition.

And the council's cabinet has agreed to provide an extra £50,000 to increase the number of cuts where they can.

Currently, in towns, verges are cut six times a year between March and November and in rural areas they are cut twice, between April and October. However the wet and mild summers have encouraged more plant growth.

Councillor Peter Finney, Cabinet member of environment and the economy, said: "We have to balance timing the cuts with keeping verges tidy and safe for road users. In our towns a neater edge is preferred, where on rural roads we can encourage a more natural approach.

"There is a long term plan to form a 'Living Verges' partnership - working with the Dorset Wildlife Trust, parish and town councils to change the way highway vegetation is managed. We want to make it both more environmentally friendly and financially sustainable, but in the meantime the cabinet recognise that we need to do more to respond to the concerns of communities."

The Living Verges partnership will trial new ways of managing roadside plants and flowers including using clippings for animal feed or as fuel for renewable energy.

Community involvement is also part of the plan with better ways for responding to queries and complaints.

For more information about roadside verges are maintained visit www.dorsetforyou.com.

Road safety survey reveals surprise results

A RECENT survey conducted by Dorset County Council's road safety team has shown some surprising results.

Around 850 people across Dorset voluntarily completed a set of questions about their own road safety behaviour.

The council wanted to find out what Dorset residents think are key road safety priorities, their perceptions of the acceptability of certain behaviours and their own self-reported behaviour.

The top five most important issues that Dorset residents think the Government should address are, in order:

1. Drink driving
2. Speeding
3. Mobile Phone use (handheld)
4. Careless driving
5. Drug driving

Surprisingly, although almost all respondents agreed it is unacceptable and dangerous to drive when over the legal alcohol limit, more than 40 per cent knew of people who they thought had done so. Worryingly, one in six people admitted to have driven themselves when unsure if they were over the limit and four even admitted to driving at some time when they knew they were over the limit.

Although speeding is cited as one of top issues to address, more than half of respondents did not agree that it was dangerous. The survey suggests it is the behaviour most frequently self reported with more than half of the respondents admitting to doing the following at some point:

- Driving at 40mph in a 30mph speed limit area
 - Exceeding the speed limit on a country road
 - Driving at 90mph on a motorway when there is no traffic about
- Using a hand held mobile phone whilst driving was considered the third most important road safety issue to be addressed.

A greater proportion of younger respondents aged 17-24 were more likely to admit to using a mobile phone for texting and to consider it socially acceptable than other age groups.

The survey results suggest the older and more experienced the driver, the more dangerous and socially unacceptable they consider it to be; however, half of all those questioned knew of people who had used a hand held mobile phone while they drive to make or take calls or to send or read texts.

Peter Finney, Dorset County Council Cabinet member for environment and economy, said: "Although this survey is only a snapshot, it's interesting to see the discrepancy between what the Dorset public think are priorities for Government to tackle, ie drink-driving and speeding, and their own self reported behaviour."

"We are very grateful to all those who took part in the survey which has given the road safety team a lot to consider for the future in terms of how our safety campaigns should be targeted."

As an incentive to complete the online survey, there was a prize draw which was won by Pete Bull, from Bournemouth.

He was picked at random from the entries and received £30 worth of vouchers to spend in Halfords.

Police appeal to catch thieves

POLICE are appealing for public help to catch two sets of thieves who struck in Weymouth.

The first incident, between 1pm on April 25th and 8.45am on April 28th, involved the theft of a black clarinet with silver buttons in a black leather look case from a charity shop on Abbotsbury Road, Weymouth.

Anyone who saw anything suspicious or who has any information should contact Dorset Police on 101 or Crime Stoppers on 0800 555 111 quoting Crime Number 016830.

The second incident happened between 5.10pm on April 28th and 8.27am on April 29th when offenders broke into a blue Ford Transit van parked on Westdowne Close off Chickerell Road, Weymouth. Items stolen include a Garmin Satnav System, a Testo Gas Analyser, a Makita Hammer Drill and an Esso Gold Card.

Anyone who saw anything suspicious or who has any information should contact Dorset Police on 101 or Crime Stoppers on 0800 555 111 quoting Crime Number 016987.

Harbour festival rocks

TEN bands performed live on Weymouth Harbour when they took part in the seventh annual Quayside Music Festival.

Revellers enjoyed the sounds of everything from the Madhatters to Peacock Suite and Leggomen.

Festival organiser Keith Treggiden said: "We may not have had the weather, but Weymouth people really made the festival shine."

"The Rendezvous and Royal Oak were packed and we are delighted at how successful it was."

"I owe a big debt of thanks to my staff and everyone who helped with the festival because without them it would not have happened."

Sainsbury's and Rotary support school

■ SAINSBURY'S store in Weymouth nominated the Wyvern School as its charity in December 2013 when it welcomed the Rotary Club of Melcombe Regis to make a Christmas collection for local charities.

Rotary duly passed on £250 to store manager Steve Jones to be passed on to the school.

Rotary Club of Melcombe Regis president Richard Cropper said: "All the money that we collected during the Christmas period will be passed to local charities and it is very rewarding for us to be able to help, with the aid of Sainsburys, this amazing school which caters for the needs of dependent children."

Pair arrested after woman attacked

TWO people have been arrested after a woman suffered minor injuries after being allegedly robbed in Weymouth.

Police say the incident happened on the Rodwell Trail between noon and 1pm on Monday, April 14th.

The victim, a local 26-year-old woman, had a quantity of cash stolen from her and sustained minor injuries including grazes and bruises.

Detective Constable Gerald Marchant, of Weymouth CID said: "The victim, who had gone to the trail to meet a friend, was allegedly approached by two people and attacked."

"I believe that the attack, in which they pulled her to the ground and forcibly removed items from her, was unprovoked."

"I would like to speak with any witnesses or anyone who has information about this incident."

A 22-year-old man and a 23-year-old woman, both from Weymouth, have been arrested on suspicion of robbery and have been released on bail pending further enquiries.

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police in confidence on 101 quoting incident number 15:145 or call the free and anonymous Crimestoppers line on 0800 555 111.

Royal seal of approval for community safety centre

THE EARL and Countess of Wessex have visited Weymouth and performed the first official site viewing of a proposed new road safety centre.

The royal couple toured the Community Safety Centre at Weymouth Fire Station which already contains HealthWise, FireWise and NightWise education facilities, all of which come under the umbrella of the SafeWise charity.

They also saw the site of the new soon-to-be-built Roadwise outdoor road safety centre and later met Dorset Fire and Rescue Service fire cadets before attending a reception with tea.

There they mingled

by Harry Walton

with 60 guests including ones from Budmouth College, Weymouth College, the Safe Bus initiative, the Isle of Portland Aldridge Community Academy, Weymouth and Portland Sailing Academy and the Chesil Trust.

A busy afternoon for Edward and Sophie – who landed by helicopter at nearby Budmouth College – also saw them meet six year five pupils from Conifers Primary School who showed the royal couple what they had learnt in HealthWise safety sessions on smoking, alcohol, age restricted products and resisting peer pressure.

The Earl and Countess were greeted on their arrival by the Deputy Lieutenant of Dorset Jeremy Pope before they met Weymouth and Portland Mayor and Mayoress, Councillors Ray Banham and Pam Nixon, South Dorset MP Richard Drax, Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner Martyn Underhill, Dorset Fire Authority chairman Rebecca Knox and Chief Fire Officer Darran Gunter.

Mr Banham said: "It was royal recognition for Weymouth's Community Safety Centre. This facility has provided so much for the community since it opened and it is wonderful that the Earl and Countess of Wessex have given it their seal of approval."

Mr Gunter said: "It was great recognition for the centre which has really proved a hit with the community and we were also able to show their Royal Highnesses the site of the proposed new RoadWise centre which we hope to complete within the year to provide a long term road safety programme."

The royal couple were also introduced to a number of senior SafeWise figures including chief executive Alison Shelton who said: "You only had to look at the pupils' faces to see how excited they were at learning about HealthWise and about meeting the Earl and Countess."

"What the youngsters were taught helped sow seeds of responsibility and gave them knowledge to help them make safe and sensible choices in life."

During their visit the royal couple came within a few metres of striking firefighters on a picket line who were taking action over pension cuts.

■ ANYONE for a tea party?

Going mad for tea and cake!

NO-one was late for a very important date when a Mad Hatter's Tea Party was staged in Weymouth.

The event at the top of St Mary Street was the latest attraction arranged by Weymouth's Business Improvement District to bring more visitors in to town.

BID manager Nigel Reed made sure everyone had a cup of tea and said: "This type of event helps make the town attractive to visitors."

"By creating activity like this you give people an up close and personal experience that they don't forget and it encourages them to make repeat visits to Weymouth."

"We hope to build the Mad Hatter's Tea Party into an annual event based on Mad Hat Saturday because today's event was clearly popular."

"It also launched Alice's Summer Weymouth Adventure Trail which involves a map parents can buy for the whole family to follow with clues and a quiz."

BID director Francis Drake of Antonio's Cafe said: "It all came together well and we will definitely be holding the Mad Hatter's Tea Party again next year."

"It encouraged people to come into town which is our reward for a lot of hard work. We would also like to thank the many companies which have supported the event."

The Crippling Cost of EU Membership

Britain's three outdated political parties (Lib/Lab/Con) collectively know by some as "The EU Party", no longer serve the British people. They are run by career politicians whose leaders and ministers primarily serve Brussels (and themselves). They do every- thing they can to deny us a ref- erendum on EU membership. This is a betrayal. No-one believes Cameron's promise of a referendum. He has broken too many promises before. The crazy Euro experiment is now on the rocks, with the UK one of its overloaded lifeboats.

A lifeboat can only take so many economic migrants, before it too sinks. Sooner or later we'll sink anyway as an EU member, due to the crippling costs of EU membership.

Corruption and unbridled spending have long been the norm in Brussels. The EU government overspent its budget last year by a colossal £20 billion. Now it is demanding an extra £2.4 billion from the UK to help fill that black hole. That's on top of the £20 billion a year we pay in EU membership fees.

Economist Prof. Tim Congdon

CBE, calculates the cost to be around £170 billion a year. That includes £20 billion in membership fees, £22 billion complying with EU regulations, with £2 billion a year lost due to EU fishing rules alone. This monetary waste will destroy us unless we leave the EU. Then we can use that £170 Billion a year to rebuild our economy and pay down our astronomical national debt - now fast approaching £1.5 TRILLION. (That's a MILLION times £1.4 MILLION!) The figure is almost unimaginable. It's out of control and the EU is the cause.

"But we need to be in the EU for trade reasons", argue EU fans. Rubbish! If we leave the EU we will be free to enter into lucrative international trade deals outside the sinking EU. And we can still trade with the EU after we leave.

"But the EU is needed to keep peace in Europe" they argue. More rubbish! NATO (not the EU) has kept the peace in Europe since WW2.

"The EU is good for the planet!" others argue. Not at all!

The EU's Common Fisheries Policy has resulted in fishermen from multiple countries plundering seas that were once responsibly managed by the UK alone. Fishermen have had to dump large percentages of their catches back into the sea to rot, due to EU quotas. Fish stocks have been decimated as a result and fish prices have risen massively.

The EU's Biofuel Directive, causes farmers to switch from food production to Rapeseed production. Result: massive food price rises and growing food poverty world-wide.

Then there's the wind farm madness. Wind farms are massively expensive to build, maintain and run, thereby negating any green benefits envisaged. The resulting energy price increases force our citizens into fuel poverty. Wildlife and tourism suffers too.

Climate change has been going on since the dawn of time, but to the EU elite, it's a an opportunity to make massive profits while our people are forced into fuel and food poverty.

Let's go fly a kite! Festival a huge success

■ BRIAN Smith of White Horse Kite Flyers with his Union Jack cross-deck kite

GLORIOUS sunshine bathed Carnival Queen Gina Hartley when she cut a ribbon to officially launch the 2014 Weymouth International Kite Festival.

Nearly 300 kite flyers took part in the three-day event which attracted entrants from all over the country.

Controller, Diane Moore, said the event was the biggest beach kite festival in England.

She added: "We also had more than 20 seafront stalls, an international food village on the quayside with dishes from Thailand to Brazil and a funfair."

"Two sections of beach were cordoned off as arenas for specialist and competition kite flying and we had everything up in the air from an octopus and a giant manta ray to sports kites. There was also a special arena for members of the public to fly their kites."

"Towards the Pavilion we had Pound Puppy Animal Rescue staging their fun dog show on the beach where there was a whole range of classes from best oldie to best puppy."

She added that a special Beach Olympics event was held over two days by top education activity provider PGL.

Diane said: "People took part in team Olympics, face painting and war dancing

to music with all proceeds from the Olympics going to charities including the NSPCC.

"The overall festival raised money for a variety of charities including the RSPB and, all in all, the weather was fantastic and we were delighted at the success of the event."

So was Weymouth and Portland Mayor Councillor Ray Banham who opened the kite competition and presented the prizes.

He said: "There was a stage when we thought we might not have a kite festival because of cuts but, thanks to a real community effort, we have had a fantastic event which attracted nearly 30,000 to the resort over the Bank Holiday weekend."

"We owe a big debt to the organisers and to the council's event team for the support they provided."

THIS year's Weymouth and Portland Scouts' annual St Georges Day parade was once again hailed a great success.

Despite fears that bad weather might wash the parade away, the rain stayed away long enough for the district Scouts to proudly parade their colour's through Weymouth town centre.

The parade started at the Kings Statue, went down St Mary's Street then over the Town Bridge to the Holy Trinity Church, where the annual awards ceremony took place.

Deputy District Commissioner for Operations Gary Hepburn said: "I was very pleased with the turn out this year, one of the best we have seen in a few years. I would like to thank the whole team of adult volunteers who made it all happen, especially our parade marshal Darren Phillips, and District Explorer Leader Mark Wildman."

After the parade, scouts of all ages from throughout the district renewed their promises, which included for the first time a new alternative version that allows atheist members to join in.

Learning granny's crafty skills

■ YES, we had plenty of bananas! was the cry when Weymouth's Let's Make It group held a Granny's Crafty Tricks event in St Mary's Church hall.

Skills carried out included learning how to tattoo a banana, making a doodle game and pop-up cards. Organiser Julie Hursthouse said: "These workshops are about going out into the community to show people skills they may not be aware of."

"Today was both unusual and successful.....because you don't often get to work with bananas!"

She added that the group will now be spending a number of weeks on their Bollywood project of dance and costume workshops. More information about them is available from Julie on 01305-838497.

Finding a parking space

AS any motorist knows, finding somewhere to park at a coastal town in the summer is not easy.

So when we found free spaces outside a hotel we thought we were very fortunate. But it was only when we returned that we realised why local people avoid parking there.

Our car had been well and truly plastered by seagulls! That hotel must have been their regular haunt. Blaming seagulls for our messy car is not right. They are only behaving as nature planned when they were created.

Likewise we can easily make wrong assumptions about scripture texts. It is important to look carefully at both the context as well as the general tenor of scriptural interpretation. Otherwise, there is a danger of being misled ourselves as well as leading others astray.

The possibilities and outcome of following that path hardly bears thinking about. This can only lead to all kinds of error as opposed to the truth of God's Word.

I like what the Bereans did. They: "...examined the Scriptures every day to see if what Paul said was true."

Also as the Apostle Paul wrote in 1 Thessalonians 5:21-22: "Test everything. Hold on to the good. Avoid every kind of evil."

A walk in the woods

■ A TREE walk has been held round the leafy routes of Weymouth's Lodmoor Country Park. The event was led by Parks head arborist Dave Parry who said: "We had a look at all the different trees and flowers."

"Star attractions were the horse chestnuts which were beautiful while people also found out that there were perhaps more trees in flower than they realised."

"Lodmoor's trees are not a natural landscape because they come from all over the world."

Grand garden plant sale for RNLI

COME rain or shine this year's grand garden plant sale in aid of the RNLI will again be held at Friar Waddon Farmhouse between Upwey and Portesham on Wednesday, May 14th, from 10.30am-1pm.

Visitors can take their pick from a wide array of interesting plants on sale and help the charity that saves lives at sea at the same time.

Not only plants will be on sale but also a wide selection of home made cakes and produce as well as books and bric-a-brac.

There will also be an opportunity to walk around the lovely gardens of the farmhouse and have tea, coffee, cake and light lunches. Entry will be £1.

Try events before you buy

RESEARCH shows that staying active can help people live independently for longer but it can be a problem finding the right activity.

There are hundreds of Activity Providers in Dorset offering a diverse range of activities to suit all types of needs.

The Phoenix Legacy aims to run a series of events this year to celebrate and promote these to the over 50s to give them a chance to "try before you buy".

Inspired by the 2012 Games, this voluntary community project was founded in 2009 to enable older people in Dorset to keep active.

Successful outcomes recently have been the moving of the sensory garden, which was built by Phoenix Legacy volunteers in 2010, from Crossroads Day Centre to its new home at Southill Community Centre.

They have also helped prisoners at the Verne to keep mentally active by learning to play King's Cribbage and chess and to do cryptic crosswords.

In conjunction with the National Trust, Casterbridge Speakers and Dorset Network Writers, speaking and writing competitions were held at Max Gate, Hardy's Dorchester home. This created a unique and special event.

There will be five events this year which will be Celebrations of...Song and Dance, the Arts, Outdoor Activities, Sport on the Beach, and the Mind. The aim is to encourage people to try something new and promote local activity providers.

The first event, sponsored by Bluebird Care, is on May 15th at Weymouth Pavilion from 3pm-8pm with a Celebration of Song and Dance.

Project secretary Caroline Brewer said: "If you are a local activity provider and would like to be involved in these events, then the Phoenix Legacy would love to hear from you now."

People can ring her on 01305 785904 or email info@phoenixlegacy.org.uk.

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

When is an illegal parked car not illegally parked?

I HAVE recently discovered a possible answer to the age old question, when is an illegally parked car not an illegally parked car.

The answer would appear to be when it's a Bank Holiday in Weymouth.

Organisers trying to set up the annual Quayside Music Festival near Town Bridge found themselves forced to work round a car parked in a bay just feet from notices warning that the event was taking place, that parking was not allowed there during it and that vehicles would be towed away if drivers ignored the warning.

So you can imagine the frustration of organisers when one driver parked in such a bay...but escaped both a parking ticket and an immediate towaway.

The answer turned out to lie with its location in a tiny section of private road which meant traffic wardens couldn't touch it.

Worse, organisers couldn't get it towed away because parking wardens didn't control that function which was operated by a different council department which wasn't working that day!

As one organiser told me, they wouldn't have paid hundreds of pounds for a scheme for the festival which included a tow-away facility if they'd known they couldn't get cars towed away for breaching the "No Parking" notices. Music definitely wasn't "the food of love" in this situation!

And so the confusion begins...

IT has started already and there are some very confused visiting motorists out there.

Weymouth's much vaunted new traffic system – the one so called transport experts say is easy and they don't know what all the fuss is about – is already dismaying tourists and other summer newcomers.

They aren't traffic experts but they know what they're used to and they certainly aren't used to a traffic light system designed by someone on magic mushrooms.

In just a few days I came across not one but FOUR examples of motorists left so muddled they had completely lost their way.

The first involved the King Street lights which proved too much for the driver of a large people carrier who, torn between two lanes to take him up King Street and another two lanes to take him up Commercial Road, hedged his bets and opted to wait parked at 45 degrees across both routes!

The second incident involved Mr and Mrs Argument who, so confused by the notorious Boot Hill-Asda junction, just stopped driving altogether in the middle of the junction to rail at each other about which was the correct way to proceed forward. They may still be there.

Thirdly – at the same jolly junction – seasoned campaigners of this blot on the traffic landscape derived a certain enjoyment from watching two drivers slowly meet head on, fortunately without damage. The humour came from watching them try to work out who should give way so they both stood some chance of survival.

Finally, my heart goes out to the nervous tourist who actually stopped me as I was walking in to town past the old fire station site.

She wound her window down and asked me if I could help. Did she perhaps want to go to the attractions at Lodmoor, maybe the Pavilion, Portland or the RSPB centre?

No, she actually said this: "Sorry to bother you but we came through this junction last night and I've forgotten how to do it. Is it that little bit in the middle to go to Dorchester?"

I did my best and then watched as she bravely inched her way through the traffic light minefield and successfully reached Westwey Road. And we're told this system is simple!

How town bus prices have changed

NEARLY a century ago the then Prince of Wales visited Upwey Wishing Well in Weymouth to taste the waters.

Drop in at the modern day tearooms there and you can see any amount of photographs of his visit and memorabilia of the age including one poster advertising charabanc rides from Weymouth out to the well and back.

It was a nostalgic whiff of times gone by and of prices gone by as well.

Incredibly, the cost in those days for a return trip was the princely sum of one shilling. That's five pence to you and me in new money.

Stack that up against modern, shorter single bus trips in to town for the best part of £2 – about eighty times the cost of the charabanc ticket – and it makes me wonder what passengers all those years ago would make of modern prices.

Pleasure pier is in need of makeover

TAKE a walk out along the Pleasure Pier in Weymouth and you don't have to go too far to see its face needs make up applied by the trowel full.

Metal piling is heavily rusted and various areas of concrete are either badly cracked or have crumbled away altogether to be replaced by crude repairs.

Much has been written about the state of quay areas in Weymouth, but I wonder what the true picture is for the whole harbour area.

It is not something people see a lot of since pilings are usually below their feet or viewed from a distance while the structural concrete work, by its very nature, often supports what they are walking on, but the signs of wear and tear are there for anyone who takes the trouble to look.

It is therefore perhaps just as well that the town's relationship with the Environment Agency has sharply improved because I think Weymouth will need all the help it can get with future flood protection and harbour maintenance work.

Sending boots to Brazil

DORSET'S Wessex FM has launched a campaign running up to the World Cup in Brazil, to collect football boots for disadvantaged youngsters in the country.

The "Boots 2 Brazil" initiative is asking for donations of unwanted or unused football boots that can be sent out to Brazil.

Listeners can donate them at the Wessex FM Studios in Trinity Street, Dorchester, and local schools are being invited to get involved too.

World and European Football Skills Champion John Farnworth, a "Boots 2 Brazil" Ambassador, will be visiting one lucky local school who help collect boots, and running a football skills masterclass for the children.

Wessex FM's Programme Manager and Breakfast Show presenter James O'Neill said: "We wanted to do something a little different in the run up to the World Cup, and the 'Boots 2 Brazil' campaign will be Dorset's effort to help the football mad children in Brazil play their favourite sport, while the rest of the world watches the tournament."

Chris Sharman from Chal-

■ WESSEX FM presenters James O'Neill, Steve Bulley, and Del Thompson

lenger Sports, who are behind the campaign, said the children there often play with no footwear.

"They don't have access to things we would class as normal over here – football boots, kit, training, coaching or access to pitches, so they will kick around what they can, and wear what they can," he said.

"Most of the younger children will just play barefooted." Donations should be of clean boots, of any size, with laces tied together to keep the boots in pairs.

For more details, please contact James O'Neill at Wessex FM on 01305 250333 or james.oneill@wessexfm.com.

Freddie's thank you to hospital

A WEYMOUTH family is holding a series of fundraising events including a fete to say thank-you to Southampton's neo-natal unit for saving their son's life.

Freddie Miners was born at Dorchester, but a specialist team had to come from Southampton to transfer him up there to have "cooling" treatment to reduce his body temperature for 72 hours to give his brain time to rest.

His parents, Gemma Baker and Ashley Miners, said Freddie had a very distressed birth and lack of oxygen caused him to have seizures.

They added: "We are holding fundraisers due to our son, Freddie, having life-saving care and treatment at Southampton Hospital shortly after he was born.

"Through this treatment they saved his life and he is now 18 months old and doing very well.

"So we feel we owe the neo-natal unit at Southampton Hospital and, by holding fundraisers, we hope to help other babies like Freddie.

"We are doing a number of sponsored events including a sponsored spin at Weymouth Community Sports Hub at Redlands on May 24th at 1pm.

"On Saturday, June 7th from noon we are holding a fete-style fundraiser on the grounds of the Marquis of Granby pub on Chickerell Road.

"There will be lots of stalls, children's games and activities, a barbecue, a car boot sale, children's entertainment, a raffle and lots more.

"The raffle will be drawn at 4pm. Tickets cost £1 each available from the Marquis or people can come to Morrisons on Friday, May 30th, where we will be selling them in the entrance.

"There are so many excellent prizes including a weekend family ticket for Camp Bestival, a helicopter ride, a three-night stay in a holiday cottage, Southampton Boat show tickets, many store and restaurant vouchers and many free admissions to all kinds of attractions.

"All proceeds are being donated to Southampton Hospital Charity to help them continue to do amazing work. We are hoping to raise a considerable amount towards buying a new 'cooling' jacket which is around £15,000 and which the unit is currently saving for."

Celebrating Hammonds' Dorset folksongs

A CONCERT of traditional Dorset folk songs by Tim Laycock called "The Gleanings of Mr Sharp's Harvest" will be staged at Portesham Village Hall on May 14th at 7.30pm.

Cecil Sharp collected hundreds of folksongs from working people in Somerset at the beginning of the 20th century and inspired many other musicians and collectors to do the same in other parts of the country including Ralph Vaughan Williams and Percy Grainger.

Brothers Henry and Robert Hammond were inspired to do so in Dorset, arriving with their bicycles in 1905.

During a period of two years they collected around 600 folksongs, many from the South Dorset Ridgeway area from singers such as Marina Russell in Upwey and Robert Barratt in Puddletown.

These songs are now available online and in manuscript form, representing a fantastic resource of local music, story and folklore.

by Harry Walton

In this special solo concert, Dorset's Tim Laycock tells the story of the Hammonds' activities in the county and sings a personal selection of favourites from their collection.

He said: "I've sung these wonderful songs for more than 30 years and for me the great attraction, apart from the extraordinary tunes and stories, is the fact that they are local and as much a part of our county heritage as the monuments and long barrows."

Following the success of the Rooting Round the Ridgeway West Gallery carol workshops and concerts last autumn, this evening is also an introduction to a new series of workshops where those taking part will explore the local folk song repertoire and practice the art of solo folksong performance.

Tim said: "The songs are accessible and fun. You don't need to be a trained singer, or even able to read music, to be able to perform and enjoy this evocative music.

"Come along and hear about the Hammonds and the songs they found, then sign up for a workshop to learn a song from your village or area – no previous experience necessary!"

Concert tickets cost £5 or it is £20 in total for the workshops including the concert performance with tickets available on 01305-269512.

Talking newspaper celebrates 25 years

SOUTH West Dorset Talking Newspaper for the visually impaired is celebrating its 25th anniversary.

Local talking newspapers have been available in various parts of the UK since 1970, but there wasn't one in the south west Dorset area.

Now the SWDTN serves the Weymouth and Portland, Dorchester, Bridport, Lyme Regis and Blandford areas.

It also has listeners all over Dorset, in neighbouring counties and even further afield, listeners who have left the area and say they feel that it is a good way of keeping in touch.

It was in October 1987 that the SWDTN was born, providing a service for people in the area who could not read the local paper, and who could feel isolated because of this.

The first edition was issued on January 2nd 1988.

It was set up with just a few volunteers to start with, some of whom are still working with the charity and remember carrying out reading and recording in volunteers homes, the copying and despatching was done in an attic!

Challenges over the years have included technical issues, first with reel to reel tape recorders and then with cassette tapes.

This involved organising a lot more equipment and, as the numbers requiring tapes grew, new premises were organised. The charity is still there, in the bottom of the Portland Town Council building, where they have a recording studio and a copying area.

Every Wednesday volunteers arrive to sort, record and despatch the new edition of the Talking Newspaper. Since the days of cassette tapes, they have used CDs with machines for copying these. Now there are memory sticks. Technical volunteers have persevered, dealing with each change over the years and often giving hours of their time to organise updating machinery and passing their knowledge on.

More than 80 people are involved in reading, recording and copying the news and a magazine. Their commitment over the years, much appreciated, quite often only involves a few hours every six weeks, although some people do a lot more.

The charity survives on donations and many local organisations have been very generous.

A seafrost stall is planned in Weymouth and organisers hope people will support it on July 13th.

SWDTN's big date in May is their annual meeting which is also a chance for volunteers and listeners to meet, and prospective volunteers to come along and find out what the charity is all about.

The event will be held in Community Room One at Weymouth Community Safety Centre at Weymouth Fire Station on Radipole Lane on May 22nd at 7pm. All are welcome.

Wessex Cycling Club turns 90

■ DAVID Durose in France

A DORSET cycle club is appealing for new members to come and join them as it celebrates its 90th anniversary.

The Wessex Road Club was formed at a time when young men and women thought nothing of cycling to London and back at the weekend.

Today, with British cycling at an all-time high after Olympic success and more than more again taking to the roads, the club is keen to attract cyclist who are interested in the more competitive nature of the sport.

"Perhaps you would like to be more competitive...are you thinking of doing a time trial, or a sportive, or want to go on a cycle tour in France?" said David Durose, a long-standing member and, despite being in his seventies, is still a keen cyclist.

David, who lives near Dorchester, says that the club is affiliated to British Cycling and Cycling Time Trials, the national organisers of racing on public roads, offering easy access to local events and third party insurance coverage.

The club organises two open time trials each year – a 24-mile hilly in March and a

by Trevor
Bevins

50-mile event this month on a course from Poole to just outside of Dorchester and back again. There is also a ten-mile held every Wednesday summer evening on a course near Wareham, combined with members from Poole Wheelers. If the club could attract more members it would like to run its own summer time trials near Dorchester.

"We would like to have a large enough group to have our own summer time trials and for those who don't want to ride there is always marshalling, time-keeping and helping with the start," said David.

If numbers grew the club would also be able to organise weekend rides and other competitive events during the year.

"Between us we have an immense amount of experience which we would like to share and encourage others to enjoy cycling in the way that we have over the years," said David, a veteran of many long-distance rides both in the UK and in France.

He is still cycling 40miles in three hours and, on many weeks, puts in a mileage getting close to his age: "They say that being a cyclist gives you an extra ten years of life...you don't see many overweight cyclists," said David.

Notable club successes in the past include Bert Brown who in 1934 rode from Edinburgh to London setting a new record and on the way breaking records for Edinburgh to York, the 12-hour and the 24-hour record.

For more information about the club contact Willie Kirkland in Weymouth on 01305 789121.

Because everyone needs a

IT IS fair to say that Bridport's newest attraction, Soulshine Café, is the talk of the town. Social media is buzzing with rave reviews of the food and drink on offer, and photos of the venue's extraordinary features.

The café offers great speciality coffee, unique freshly squeezed juices and smoothies, and delicious freshly-made salads, sandwiches and lunches – all in an amazing space which would not look out of place in one of the world's major cities.

The beautiful courtyard – a sun-trap all day long – is also proving popular, as is the fine range of independent magazines, children's literature and kitchen goods for sale.

Husband and wife team Lisa Loader and Chris Denne took on the former gallery / café towards the end of 2013 with grand designs on creating something unique in the area.

Using a design overview imagined by Ms Loader, the project used the talents of a host of local crafts-people, furniture designers, wood-workers, artists to make a dream reality.

Mr Denne believes the end result is something that bears the stamp of

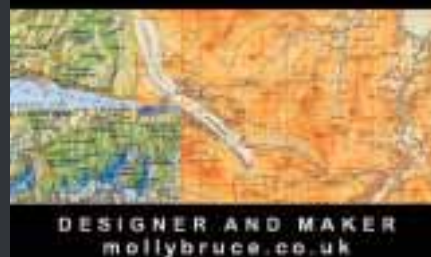

“The result is an experience that reflects the essential qualities of Bridport – somewhere exciting, different and buzzing with life.”

JLAC specialises in producing contemporary architecture at affordable prices. The company has an experienced team of contractors who help deliver a top quality finish to your property.

JLAC are close to completing two contemporary renovations on either side of the valley of Lyme Regis, which are due for completion at the end of June 2014. JLAC have built up a reputation over the past three years of turning the uninspiring buildings of the 1960s/70s into contemporary family homes with a layout that suits modern day living.

The company offers a free initial consultation and have a number of contractors who are willing to meet at the property to discuss your requirements. In the past JLAC have carried out projects with a number of local contractors that work well as a team to complete the project to a high standard and to the timescale agreed, whether you are living away and the work is being carried out on your second home, or whether you are living on site whilst the project is ongoing, JLAC will accommodate your needs and make your project as stress free as possible.

JLAC are happy to get involved at whatever stage, whether you would like them to visit a property whilst the property is for sale, or whether you have lived in the property and need a change, JLAC are happy to help.

If you are looking to relocate, JLAC are able to find your ideal property without all the stress. Primarily due to many useful resources being at their disposal, accompanied by excellent knowledge of the local area, JLAC can deliver your dream house!

Other projects that we have obtained planning for over the past few years range from a small kitchen extension to listed barn conversions, farmhouse renovations and even a new school. No project is big or too small. We love a challenge and look forward to hearing from you with more exciting projects.

The use of colour in your home...

COLOUR is perhaps the most personal and dramatic statement you can make in your home.

When it comes to decorating, poring over paint charts is undoubtedly one of the most exciting things, and the moment when you first take the lid off that tin of paint is even better. Colour can create moods, and even, many people believe, improve your mental well-being.

Choice

It doesn't seem that long ago that the choice for colour was either magnolia or 'tint with a hint'. Nowadays there are endless possibilities and, as with clothes, the major companies bring out new colours each season. One minute acid green is all the rage, the next it's the 'new neutrals'. It is easy to be overwhelmed by the choice. Even sticking to tried and tested white can have its pitfalls.

Pitfalls

You may know exactly which colours you want to use but you can still hit a stumbling block. Why does the colour that looked so great in the tin look insipid and lifeless on the walls? What's more, you've spent hours trying to get everything to match exactly, but your room has just ended up looking bland.

Colour schemes

Planning and carrying out your own colour schemes is easy once you understand the principles of colour. Interior designers often seem to have a built-in instinct for what goes with what, and it's true, relying on your instincts and playing around is one of the best ways of learning. But although paint is relatively cheap, doing out a whole room with soft furnishings and accessories only to realise it doesn't work, can be an expensive mistake. Designers have been trained and many use a simple colour wheel to make sure their designs are going to work.

If you're confused about colour, follow our simple rules and you need never leave colour to chance again. And once you know the rules, have fun breaking them.

Colour is a deeply personal thing - what makes you swoon, might make someone else sick. If you've ever wondered why you feel listless in your lounge or happy in your hall, delve into colour psychology.

Boost your bedrooms

ONE of the best ways to make your home more suited to your needs, especially if you have a growing family or want to work from home, is to add a bedroom.

Increasing the number of bedrooms can also put your home in a different price bracket if and when you come to sell.

The most obvious place to put an extra bedroom is upstairs, with all the others, and sometimes it's possible to use the space you already have.

For example, if the main bedroom spans the front of the house, you may be able to divide it in two, as long as each room has its own, separate window. This may not be as satisfactory as adding space, but it can work well if your home's big enough and you're on a limited budget.

When you come to sell, remember that couples and sharers will probably be looking for good-sized double bedrooms, while families may be happier to have more, smaller bedrooms if it means one for each child.

If rejigging the existing space isn't an option, consider converting the loft into a bedroom or bedrooms instead. If you can also fit a bathroom or shower room up there, and built-in storage, you've created the perfect master or guest suite.

The cheapest and easiest loft conversions are ones with skylights (eaves conversions), as the line of the roof is unchanged. However, this isn't ideal if the loft has limited space.

Building out the roof to create more useable space inside is often necessary, which means a (more expensive and complicated) dormer, mansard or hip-to-gable conversion.

The pitch of the roof can make a big difference to how useable the space is - some lofts don't have enough head height to make the conversion worthwhile unless you lower the ceilings in the rooms below. This is a big and expensive job and won't be practical if the ceilings are already quite low.

You also need room for a good-sized staircase up to the loft on the floor below and if this means losing a bedroom, you may not gain much by converting the loft.

Building regulations for loft conversions are very strict about having a safe means of escape in the event of a fire, so it's not necessarily the easiest way to add an extra bedroom.

Creating a downstairs bedroom, and preferably a bathroom or shower room next to it, can work better, providing your home's layout is suitable. Ground-floor extensions are usually used to add kitchen, dining and living space, but they can include bedrooms.

A two-storey extension is often better because you can create extra living space downstairs and bedrooms upstairs and it should be cheaper than doing a ground-floor extension and a loft conversion, but two-storey extensions aren't always easy to do with our planning system.

Another way to add a bedroom is converting your home's garage (or outbuildings) into one. If the garage is mostly used for storage and the stuff can be stored elsewhere, the garage may be more useful and valuable as a bedroom, as long as it's converted properly and sympathetically.

To get the best of both worlds, you could put a bedroom on top of the garage, if there's space to build above it and for a new corridor on the first floor.

Room for fun

CHILDREN and a calm, stylish home don't always go hand in hand. But you can create spaces to suit grown-ups and youngsters alike, as family lifestyle expert Ashlyn Gibson tells Gabrielle Fagan.

If your home is feeling like a battleground, as you and your children fight for territory, it could be time for a new strategy.

Before you consider moving or boarding schools - or simply resign yourself to chaos until they've flown the nest - there is another answer: creating rooms that suit your need for stylish spaces as well as theirs for play areas.

"Children and decor aren't generally regarded as a match made in heaven. Sticky fingers, the patter of tiny, muddy feet and an ever-growing collection of plastic toys can take their toll on rooms," says Ashlyn Gibson, author of Creative Family Home; a blueprint for transforming a home that appeals equally to grown-ups and youngsters.

All that's needed, she believes, is a little imagination, a dash of flair, and with your children's help, a family home can be one that's fun and which you're proud to show off.

"Bringing up children is an adventure and living with them should be fun," she says. "It's all about capturing their spirit of wonder, discovery and sense of fun, and giving them child-friendly spaces which encourage them to be imaginative. Spaces where you can all relax, and they can express their personalities."

Key ingredients, she says, are practical layouts, easy-to-clean durable surfaces able to withstand the rough and tumble of family life, and ideally a neutral backdrop so that it's easy to add vivid colour and pattern, which children love, in everything from fabrics and furnishings through to their toys, collections and artwork.

"With a bit of ingenuity you can showcase their possessions to great effect, and have a home that never looks stagnant or dull. A colourful, visually stimulating home is an inspiring place for everyone, young and old."

Play & display

Children's toys seem to have a life of their own, apparently cloning themselves over night so they constantly overflow storage boxes and invade every corner. Make stumbling over them a distant memory by providing child-friendly storage.

"A home free of clutter will have a relaxed, calm vibe which the whole family will enjoy," says Gibson.

"Portable storage, a box on castors or a vintage suitcase, is versatile and allows children to transport contents from room to room."

Tip: Have a clear-out of toys regularly but do it with your children - don't rush them, because choosing what to discard is all part of the process of growing up. Donate unwanted items to a charity shop or let them boost pocket money by selling at car boot sales.

Hide & seek style

"Children love making dens, cosy-ing up in small spaces and finding secret boltholes they can call their own," says Gibson.

"You don't need to invest in expensive playhouses which will soon be outgrown, just create places in rooms, whether it's an old sofa, or the space behind one, for enjoying reading sessions, or simply a pile of cushions and a lamp on a landing.

"Even a small bedroom will be a much-loved sanctuary if you invest in a raised bed so there's more space below it for playtime. Allow children a say in how it's decorated. If they experiment and express their personalities, they'll want to spend time in it."

Tip: If children share a bedroom spell out their names in letters on the walls by each bed to mark out their territory. Fabric Personalised Letters, £9.99 each, from Country Bumpkins.

Shared space

The space where you're cooking or working can be magnetic to children, but unsafe as well as inconvenient. Instead, suggests Gibson, utilise 'dead space' for play zones, like an under-stairs cupboard. Use a fold-away dining table so the space doubles as an activity area, or designate a play corner. "If there's enough height, an indoor swing will give youngsters hours of enjoyment," she says.

Tip: Masking tape can be used on hard floors to create a hopscotch court or to mark out a treasure trail. My First Train Tape, £10.99, from Gift Oasis, can be used on walls and floors.

Creative corners

Think outside of the paint box and create areas throughout the home where youngsters can doodle and daub, urges Gibson.

"A desk where they can base themselves is essential. Sitting at it and conjuring up their own projects encourages them to develop powers of concentration, and learn how to zone out and become completely involved in activities and make-believe," she says.

Tip: Frame their art work in perspex or clip-frames and create a gallery. Drawing on walls needn't be a banned activity! Mark out a picture frame shape on a wall with masking tape and let them express themselves within it. Peel off tape once finished and the picture will have crisp edges and be a unique focal point.

Colourfence

the smart choice for long lasting, low maintenance fencing

Low maintenance, longer life, better value...

Now Available Throughout Dorset and South Somerset

Experienced local business owners, Andy and Shelley Stewart, have launched Colourfence in Dorset and South Somerset. And that's great news for the area's homeowners who have become tired of all the costly and time-consuming maintenance that accompanies traditional timber fencing, which means we all get to spend less time maintaining our boundaries, and more time enjoying our gardens.

Colourfence is comparable in price to quality timber installations, although of course its unique low maintenance and durability means it will almost certainly work out cheaper in both time and money over the years.

Virtually maintenance free and designed to withstand harsh climates, Colourfence not only holds its colour for over 25 years it acts as a solid barrier, even against wind gusts of 130mph! The only maintenance your fence will require is an occasional wash down with water to keep it looking as good as new – so you never need to pick up that paintbrush again!

Colourfence is manufactured in Gloucestershire with all surveys and installations handled by a network of locally owned franchises. But, until the Stewarts became involved with the brand, nobody covered the South West - something that surprised Andy when he first came across the company.

"I was amazed Colourfence wasn't promoted in this area already, as there is clearly so much demand," he says. "We would certainly buy it ourselves; we have a garden and have spent too many afternoons with a paintbrush in hand. We've also spoken to friends and family who've recently had to repair or replace storm-damaged panels.

"Virtually no maintenance, coupled with its strength and durability make it the classic no brainer," he adds. "Moreover, the costs and guarantees means Colourfence is much better value than timber in the long term."

A timber fence needs maintaining – usually once a year. And that takes time. But even with the utmost care and attention, timber will age, spoil and need replacing. Colourfence, on the other hand, is made from innovative Colorbond steel and features an anti-corrosive coating that won't rust. The company also produces ColourRail matching railings or gates that are guaranteed not to corrode or flake for ten years.

With all its prices published on the website, Colourfence's customers know exactly what they pay. And that means they don't have to worry about negotiations or the hard-sell tactics that many home-improvement companies deploy, something Shelley Stewart says she wouldn't put their name to.

"Andy and I built and sold a franchise with a well-known home-improvement company, and we had a great reputation with the public," she says. "We always put a lot of emphasis on customer service, and were pleased to find Colourfence upholds those same standards."

Colourfence built its model on ethical trading, and features a number of customer testimonials on its website. The company has also collected a few accolades since landing on these shores, becoming a RHS Gold Award winner and being voted one of BBC Gardenings Top Ten products.

JELLYCIOUS JELLY JAZZ!

JELLY Jazz promises the funkier club night south of the North Pole to kick off the Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend on Friday, May 30th at Marine Theatre.

Hot foot from a successful string of club nights across the South West, Jelly Jazz DJ Peter Isaac and DJ Griff will be spinning the decks with jazz-infused floor-fillers, incorporating soul and funk with a hefty dose of jazz.

They'll be joined on stage by Freshly Squeezed, a hi-energy eight piece band for a live set with a strong Latin, percussive vibe.

Pete Isaac is a DJ promoter and driving force behind Jelly Jazz and has developed an international reputation as a DJ. At the height of the rave culture, Jelly Jazz started staging a weekly diet of soul, Latin, hip hop and break-beat but with a jazz twist. Joining forces with DJ Griff, who brings melodic funkiness to the table, the blend works to deliver a 'dance till you drop' club night.

Jelly Jazz incorporate live music into their sets, showcasing just-below-the-radar bands who can pack a punch in terms of delivery and quality. Freshly Squeezed hail from the South West and have built a reputation for outstanding musicianship, energetic performances and blowing the socks off everyone on the dance-floor. With horns, guitars, keyboards and percussion, these boys can make some noise.

Julie Sheppard the festival's publicist said: "Most club-nights tend to play one genre of music, at one tempo all night. Jelly Jazz nights are different. They provide great dance music which isn't in a predictable format. Expect bongos, beats, and bass-lines with scratchy guitars, wholesome horns, and wailing organs. You'll be in for a different kind of experience – an out-of-body one, if you're lucky. But above all, it'll be funky!"

The Jelly Jazz Club Night is at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis, on Friday, May 30th, Doors open: 8pm. Bar extension until 1am.

Tickets: £10 from Tourist Information Centre Tel: 01297 442138 or online via www.marinetheatre.com.

For more information contact Julie Sheppard at lymejazz@gmail.com or on 07884 473195.

DANI WILDE AND TODD SHARPVILLE TO PLAY DA BLUES GIG

DON'T miss the chance to catch two of the UK's finest blues exponents, Dani Wilde and Todd Sharpville, touring in a rare, unplugged/acoustic format, duetting new songs from their respective upcoming albums.

Multi-instrumentalist Sharpville has been a stalwart of the international blues scene for many years – to quote BB King: "what a talent".

Wilde burst onto the International blues scene in 2007 opening for Jools Holland at The Royal Albert Hall and has toured extensively ever since, playing up to 250 concerts a year across the globe.

The duo play at Dorchester Arts Centre on Saturday, May 10th at 8pm, with doors and bar open from 7.30pm.

Tickets are £13/£6.50 (Under 18 or with N.U.S. Card) in advance, or £14/£7 (Under 18 or with N.U.S. Card) on the door. Senior Citizen ticket: £11 advance/£12 door.

Sean Hughes to kick off Weymouth Pavilion's Sunday comedy nights

NEVER Mind the Buzzcocks star Sean Hughes comes to Weymouth this month for the first Sunday night comedy show at the Pavilion.

The new monthly gig will feature a regular host, a full line up of comics, and a big TV comedy star to headline the show.

Top of the bill at this month's debut gig will be comedy legend Sean Hughes. Sean shot to fame in the 90s after becoming the youngest winner of the Edinburgh Festival's Perrier Award. He went on to become a regular team captain on 'Never Mind the Buzzcocks' and host his own show 'The Seany Show'.

Since then Sean has ventured into acting and writing but continued to entertain audiences around the UK with regular solo shows. He comes to Weymouth on top form, fresh off the back of his latest show 'Penguins'.

Sean will be supported on the night by former English Comedian of the Year Matthew Osborn and Scottish comedian and impressionist Geoff Boyz.

Holding it all together will be regular host, and local comic, Tom Glover. Tom is one of the south west's most exciting new talents looking to follow in the footsteps of fellow westcountry comics Russell Howard, Josh Widdicombe and Jon Richardson.

Weymouth born comic, Tom, has been working with the venue to bring the best names in stand up to the town.

"The Pavilion is a fantastic venue for live comedy and I think it's something the town has been crying out for," he said.

"I want to help put Weymouth back on the comedy map and make it a place where comics look to when booking their live tours.

The new Sunday night show is going to be a little different to the usual solo shows you see in the theatre with a full line up of acts on the bill.

"The gig is going to feature some top TV names but also some lesser known acts who are equally as great but you are yet to see on the small screen," he said.

"It's going to have a Live at the Apollo feel to it, and with three comics and myself, it will hopefully offer something for everyone. Basically it will be a much better way to spend your Sunday than sitting in front of Antiques Roadshow."

The first Sunday Night Comedy at Weymouth Pavilion will be at 7:30pm on Sunday, May 18th. Tickets are £15 and available online at www.weymouthpavilion.com or from the box office on 01305 783225.

Rehearsals hotting up for Mame

REHEARSALS are hotting up for "Mame" for the chorus and principals of Lyme Regis Operatic Society. The test of remembering words to songs and the movements which have been choreographed for each phrase of each song, and then putting them together with a smile and projection is always a difficult task for amateur performers.

After a full day's work, and then organising the family at home, between thirty and forty individuals meet up for a rehearsal at the church hall or theatre, maybe once or twice a week for four or five months. Drawn from the surrounding area ~ stretching from Bridport to Exmouth and inland to Axminster and Colyton, these amateurs brush up their moves to such a standard that they have been compared with professionals!

"Breathtakingly good", "born to perform", and "five star performances" are all words used by View from to describe last year's 'Calamity Jane', and the Society is now all set to bring you 'Mame' from 13-17 May.

The story revolves around Patrick Dennis, the 10-year old orphaned nephew of Mame Dennis into whose custody he has been entrusted. Rather than bow to convention, Mame introduces the boy to her madcap and free-wheeling lifestyle. Despite her best efforts to prevent it, the trustees of her late brother (Patrick's father) force Patrick to attend boarding school in Massachusetts. When Mame loses her fortune in the Wall Street Crash she tries her hand at a number of jobs, with comically disastrous results. She eventually meets and falls for Beauregard Jackson Pickett Burnside, a Southern aristocrat with a plantation in Georgia called Peckewood. After several years away travelling the world on an 'endless honeymoon' with Beau, Mame returns home to discover that Patrick has become a griggish snob engaged to an equally griggish debutante, Gloria Upson, from a bigoted family. Mame tries to bring Patrick to his senses just in time to introduce him to the woman who will eventually become his wife.

The evening performances will commence slightly earlier than normal at 7.15pm to accommodate the young people taking part in the show, and the Matinee on Saturday will start at 2.30pm.

Tickets are available from estate agents Fortnam Smith & Banwell in Broad Street ~ telephone 01297 445666 ~ priced at £12 each, with concessions for children under 16 at £5.

Jazz and Blues session makes a comeback in Beaminster

THE final monthly jazz and blues session at Beaminster on Friday (May 9th) will be just like all the others ~ a sell-out.

Organised by Dr Elaine Hendrickson, the sessions began in February and have featured some talented local musicians such as Julie Dunn, BlueZoo blues band, Charlotte Storey and Ben Waghorn.

The sessions, which have been held at the Beaminster pavilion, have been a surprise big hit.

But for everyone who is sorry they are ending, there is good news. The jazz and blues sessions will start again in September.

"I organised the sessions because I wanted to see some jazz as part of the Beaminster Festival," said Dr Hendrickson.

"The sessions were not widely marketed, but they sold out by word of mouth before we even had a chance to get the posters distributed.

"The support for jazz and blues has been phenomenal and the musicians, some of whom came from further afield than West Dorset, have been excellent.

"Thanks to the encouragement and enthusiasm from the audiences for the sessions they will start again in September and carry on until people stop buying tickets."

VILLAGE EVENSONG AT STINSFORD

IN THE early nineteenth century, various members of Thomas Hardy's family played their stringed instruments up in the gallery at Stinsford Church, providing the music for the regular Sunday services before the days of organs and robed choirs.

Beaminster Gallery Quire is dedicated to researching and performing the village church music of that time, so it is most appropriate that they should be visiting Hardy's own parish church to play and sing a service of Choral Evensong conducted in the style of around 1830, taking place this Sunday, May 11th, at 6pm, at Stinsford Church, near Dorchester.

Village church music was then quite unlike music heard in many churches today ~ in fact it was all rather jolly and upbeat ~ and by the middle of the century it had given way to changing fashions and the

Beaminster Gallery Quire

Victorian reform movement. Beaminster Gallery Quire will be turning the clock back to the earlier period, singing and playing with gusto!

Music is of course only one part of the service, its style changing greatly with the passing years. By contrast, the Order of Evening Prayer is taken from the 1662 Book of Common Prayer, and these unchanging words are the basis for the recreation of a service as it might have been conducted two centuries ago.

ducted two centuries ago.

The congregational hymns are all of the period, but are still well-known to this day. We hope that a packed church will raise 'A Joyful Noise unto the Lord'!

Following the service of Evensong, there will be a short interval for light refreshments, after which Beaminster Gallery Quire will 'loose its stays' for half an hour, entertaining us with some lighter items from the Gallery Repertoire.

Bella Hardy concert is this Saturday

CORRECTION - Please note that in View 2 last week we printed that the Bella Hardy concert at Bridport's Electric Palace on Saturday, May 10th was to move dates. This is incorrect, and the concert will go ahead on May 10th as originally planned.

29-year-old Bella Hardy's interpretations of traditional music and her own song writing have won her critical and popular acclaim. She has been flooded with television and radio appearances and is looking forward to visiting Bridport for some time by the sea away from her busy schedule.

The show on Saturday, May 10th takes place at 6.30pm. Tickets cost £10 plus booking fee in advance, or £12 on the door. Advance tickets are available from www.seetickets.com or by calling 01308 424091.

Family Fun on Museums at Night

THERE'S even more to do this year on Museums at Night in Dorchester on Saturday, May 17th. With all six of Dorchester's museums, and the Roman Town House specially open in the evening it promises to be a fantastic night out for all the family. Max Gate is open as a preview to the evening. New this year is a special Museums at Night trail with several prizes to be won.

Entry to all 8 heritage attractions in Dorchester is only £10 for up to a family of 2 adults and 4 children for the evening, when bought in advance. Tickets for this fantastic value family night out at Dorchester's museums and attractions are now on sale from participating museums and the Dorchester Tourist Information Centre. Tickets can be bought on the night at £12.

Dorchester is probably the only town in Britain with such a wealth and diversity of museums: the Dinosaur Museum; the Tutankhamun Exhibition; the Dorset County Museum; the Keep Military Museum; the Teddy Bear Museum; the Terracotta Warriors Museum. It's alive with history and heritage and this is all brought together on Museums at Night on Saturday, May 17th.

Museums at Night promises to be a very special night offering families and individuals an unrivalled opportunity to explore, discover and enjoy these heritage venues. All the museums and attractions are visitor friendly and some have hands on and interactive displays. Museums at Night is on the evening of Saturday 17th May when the museums will be open after hours from 5pm to 9pm, with Max Gate opening as a preview.

A Sprinkling of Stardust for the S&S May Auction

SYMONDS & Sampson's auction on 30 May will be the largest one of the year so far with properties stretching across Dorset, Wiltshire and Somerset. Auctioneer Mark Lewis is already excited about the prospect of offering the lots for sale.

We have a most eclectic list of property, several of which have not been on the market for many years. For example, The Old Rectory at Winterborne Houghton, which is a fine Victorian village house standing in approximately 3 acres of garden and paddock with huge potential for refurbishment and sympathetic modernisation. Sitting on the top of a hill with lovely views there is a story that the vicar in residence was once so incapacitated that he was taken down and up to the church by Sedan Chair. Being quite a big man the ride home was a bit of a struggle for his helpers!

Worgret Manor at Wareham is a Grade II Listed manor house with consent for change of use from an hotel to a private house and has 13 individually styled bedrooms, all with en suite showers. The guide is £650,000.

In the centre of Sherborne is a lovely 1930s house called Pentire enjoying a delightful garden with off street parking and garaging which is quite unusual for that part of the town. The guide is £300,000 - £350,000. Set in one of the most stunning locations just up the road is Valley View which is a unique chance to design and extend a property in a wonderful location with fabulous views. Set in about 1.62 acres it will be a great project for somebody to take on and has a guide price of £495,000.

In Mill Lane, Preston, Weymouth a unique, detached chalet style residence with separate flat and annexe will be offered at £325,000 to £350,000 whilst a very pretty detached Grade II Listed cottage with gardens and grounds of about 1 acre at Fiddleford is guided at £350,000.

A detached four bedroom cottage in Henstridge with room to improve is for sale with a guide of £230,000 whilst two cottages at Yeovilton, that have just been de-listed by the Local Authority are to be sold with guide prices of £125,000 (1 bedroom) and £150,000 (2 bedroom). Staying in Somerset we have a Grade II Listed character cottage for sale in Crewkerne guided at £95,000 and a most unusual pair of former garages with loft and development potential (STPP) in Castle Cary for £25,000.

In Wiltshire there is a detached two bedroom bungalow requiring modernisation in a popular cul-de-sac corner plot in Warminster for £170,000 and we have land for sale at Whiteparish (near Salisbury) being lovely mature amenity woodland including a carp lake and adjoining meadows. This 10 acres has a guide at £120,000. Other land is available in Merley Park Road, Ashington, Wimborne where 22 acres of gently sloping grazing land with a stream and woodland is guided at £125,000 to £150,000 and 17 acres of pasture land near Sandford Orcas near Sherborne for £110,000. A further 14 acres is for sale at North Cheriton at the same guide, £110,000. At Gussage All Saints near Wimborne a beautiful paddock and chalk stream on the edge of the village is guided at £75,000 for 8 acres and in Gillingham 4.75 acres will be for sale with a guide of £45,000. This land includes a small field shelter.

We also have property for auction on behalf of The Woodland Trust with 3.88 acres at Beer Hackett for £10,000 and 1.81 acres at Charlton Marshall for £5,000.

The sprinkling of stardust, however, is for Marycourt in Child Okeford which is a detached house set in about half an acre. The guide is £525,000 and we are offering the property on behalf of Denise Eckshaw and Harry Pottle who were Set Decorator and Production Designer respectively on a number of films and TV programmes including The Avengers, Anna Karenina, Chitty Chitty Bang Bang, You Only Live Twice, Carry on Columbus and 39 Steps.

LYME REGIS - £425,000

This spacious, five bedroom detached bungalow, is situated in a quiet residential area of Lyme Regis close to the town and local amenities.

THE bungalow is situated in an elevated position in a quiet and popular residential area conveniently located close to the town, beaches and local amenities. Requiring some updating this spacious bungalow with glimpses of the coast and sea has five double bedrooms, lounge, kitchen/diner offers space and flexible accommodation with the potential for a self-contained annex. It has good size gardens parking a detached single garage and a fine outlook with glimpses of the coast and sea.

Lyme Regis is famed for its many historic connections and character buildings, and of course, for its well-known Cobb Harbour. As a resort, it is considered quite unspoilt, but has most of the shops and amenities that one could require. In addition to which there are numerous leisure activities including both, sailing and power boat clubs, a cliff top golf course and a bowling club. The whole coastline with Lyme Regis and Charmouth at its centre has been designated a World Heritage Site commonly known as the Jurassic Coast, it lies approximately 5 miles from the market town of Axminster, with its main line railway connections to Waterloo (Approx. 2 3/4 hours). Taunton and Exeter are within a radius of about 30 miles with access to the M5 motorway and the county town of Dorchester is a similar distance. Locally there are primary schools in Lyme Regis and Uplyme along with the well-respected Woodroffe and Colyton Grammar Schools.

A viewing is highly recommended to appreciate all this property has to offer. Please call Fortnam Smith & Banwell Estate Agents on 01297 - 445666 to arrange a viewing.

Therapeutic SOUL-utions

INTUITIVE HEALING

A non contact alternative approach to orthodox treatments which helps promote energy balance and pain relief.

ALL ENQUIRIES WELCOME - David Wallace - 07909 481706
therapeuticsoulutions@gmail.com

Intuitive Healing is the diagnosing and mending of our physical, emotional and sexual wellbeing from within.
An intuitive Healer will carry out this work by directing energy to the required place of discomfort allowing the patient's own self healing powers to do the actual healing. Information about the root cause of the discomfort can also be channelled giving the patient an insight as to how best to self treat their individual problems.

Nissan announces prices for All-New X-Trail

▲ New Nissan X-Trail

NISSAN has announced full pricing and specifications for the all-new X-Trail – the stylish and dynamic model that will reaffirm the brand's command of the crossover segment when it arrives in UK showrooms this July.

Sporting sleek and modern looks and incorporating a suite of in-class technology firsts, the all-new X-Trail builds on the dependable and accomplished reputation of its predecessor while redefining the compact SUV and further strengthening the Nissan crossover family.

A highly competitive and flexible pricing structure has been developed to ensure the latest iteration appeals in equal measure to both the loyal army of X-Trail devotees and conquest customers.

Prices start from just £22,995 for the entry-level five-seat 2WD Visia, which is £2,600 less than its predecessor, making all-new X-Trail and high-end crossover ownership more accessible than ever. Meanwhile, the five-seat 2WD Acenta, expected to be the most popular model in the range, costs just £24,795 - £800 less than the outgoing entry level Acenta.

Four equipment-packed grades: exceptional flexibility

From launch, the all-new X-Trail will be available in four familiar grades – Visia, Acenta, n-tec and Tekna – giving buyers exceptional flexibility to choose a model that best suits their lifestyle and their budget.

But Nissan's relentless drive for quality ensures the whole range is without compromise. The use of premium materials throughout means each variant has a high quality, luxurious feel and generous equipment levels enhance this further.

Priced from £22,995, Visia models sport stylish 17" alloy wheels and are given further kerb appeal with an eye-catching signature strip of LED daytime running lights.

Inside, an array of technological features including Bluetooth connectivity and an MP3 compatible sound system with AUX-IN, air conditioning, heated door mirrors, follow-me-home lighting and an electric parking brake are also among the equipment included as standard.

The all-new X-Trail features one of the most advanced meter displays yet seen, with 5 inch TFT colour display incorporating 12 graphic displays accessible on rotation offering advice and warnings including average and actual speeds, navigation turn-by-turn instructions, audio content, traffic sign recognition, eco driving advice and torque distribution settings in 4WD mode.

Moving up through the range the Acenta, priced from £24,795, adds privacy glass, dual zone climate control, electric folding mirrors, a power sunroof, automatic lights and wipers and front and rear parking sensors to the lengthy equipment list.

Both the Visia and Acenta models come with the option of a Smart Vision Pack that adds many of the most desirable driver aids and safety enhancements in one convenient and affordable package. Priced at £495, the Visia Smart Vision Pack adds automatic lights, High Beam Assist, Lane Departure Warning, Forward Emergency Braking, Traffic Sign Recognition and front and rear parking sensors to the standard equipment. Meanwhile, the Acenta Smart Vision Pack, which costs £450, adds High Beam Assist, Lane Departure Warning, Forward Emergency Braking and Traffic Sign Recognition to the standard specs. Buyers choosing the n-tec, which starts at £27,295, get everything included on the Acenta with Smart Vision Pack plus a wealth of additional goodies including 19" alloys, intelligent i-Key locking with push-button ignition, DAB radio, roof rails, power tailgate, Around View Monitor giving 360-degree view around the car and the latest generation NissanConnect system with smartphone integration and built-in apps.

Meanwhile, the range-topping Tekna, which is priced from £29,295, adds even more luxury and technology, including Bi-LED headlamps, heated leather seats and an electric driver's seat with lumbar support. A number of additional safety features such as a Blind Spot Warning and Driver Attention Alert are also included, as is Nissan's ingenious Park Assist automatic parking feature.

Brake welcomes tougher penalties for unlicensed drivers who kill and injure

JUSTICE secretary Chris Grayling MP today announced that disqualified drivers who kill and injure will face much tougher sentences, with a maximum of 10 years for those who kill and four years for those who seriously injure. The current maximum sentence is only two years for a death, and there is no specific offence for causing a serious injury while disqualified.

The justice secretary also announced his intention to conduct a full review of driving offences and penalties. Visit the Ministry of Justice news page to see the announcement in full.

Reacting, Julie Townsend, deputy chief executive, Brake, said: "Brake has long campaigned for a shake-up of charges and penalties for risky and irresponsible drivers who kill and injure on our roads. Brake supports families who have been deeply and permanently affected by selfish and risky behaviour at the wheel and we frequently hear from these families that they feel terribly let down by our justice system. As such, we strongly welcome Chris Grayling's announcement of a thorough review this year.

The paltry sentences handed out for deaths and injuries caused by disqualified drivers, who have no right to be on the road in the first place, are one of the worst injustices in the current system, and Brake strongly welcomes the government's move to address this. Getting behind the wheel when you have been banned from driving is a deliberate and illegal choice, and too often leads to devastating tragedies - the penalties must reflect this."

Find out more about Brake's Crack-down campaign for tougher penalties for drivers who kill and injure. Tweet us @Brakecharity, #Crack-down.

Brake is a national road safety charity that exists to stop the needless deaths and serious injuries that happen on roads every day, make streets and communities safer for everyone, and care for families bereaved and injured in road crashes. Brake promotes road safety awareness, safe and sustainable road use, and effective road safety policies. We do this through national campaigns, community education, a Fleet Safety Forum, practitioner services, and by coordinating the UK's flagship road safety event every November, Road Safety Week. Brake is a national, government-funded provider of support to families and individuals devastated by road death and serious injury, including through a helpline and support packs.

Brake was founded in the UK in 1995, and now has domestic operations in the UK and New Zealand, and works globally to promote action on road safety.

Road crashes are not accidents; they are devastating and preventable events, not chance mishaps. Calling them accidents undermines work to make roads safer, and can cause insult to families whose lives have been torn apart by needless casualties.

Portland athletics

Portland ready to rock with runners

ROYAL Manor of Portland AC are once again organising the annual multi-terrain races on the Isle of Portland which takes place on Sunday May 18th starting and finishing at the Portland United FC ground in Grove Road, 1000.

This year The Hard Way Half Marathon has been introduced in place of the 11 and 20-mile races, together with the five-mile race of previous years.

The course for both races which start at 10am are almost entirely off road over varying types of terrain, including springy grass, rocky footpaths, pebbled beach and hard core paths, and remain on the same route for the first two plus miles.

Racing towards the YOI in an easterly direction, runners pass what was the rear entrance road into the old Naval Dockyard, before the rear entrance of the Verne Citadel at the end of New Ground.

The run then takes you directly downhill on the old tramway route to the roundabout outside the Boscawen Centre in Castle Rd before passing Portland Castle on the right.

At this point the five-mile runners turn left to Victoria Square roundabout and up onto Chesil Beach, whilst the half marathon runners turn right and pass The National Sailing Centre before returning towards Portland and like the five-mile runners, running for 800m along Chesil Beach.

They then ascend Lancelridge, the steepest climb in the race whereby the five-mile runners then head back to the finish point at The Blues Club, the half marathon runners taking the coastal path into the old disused Totes Quarry and on to Tradecroft Estate en route for Portland Bill.

Returning along the south-east coastal path to Cheyne, the runners then head towards East Wear and the dismantled Weymouth to Portland railway track bed.

The stretch of the course from Southwell Rd to the old railway bed is the trickiest part of the course on narrow steep rocky paths with quite a few steps to negotiate.

This leads into the second hardest climb of the race up to Nicodemus's Nob onto the road at the rear of the YOI before the finish at the Blues Club.

Full details of the course and a course map plus an entry form can be also found at www.rmpac.co.uk

Advanced entry starts from £8 for runners who are members of a UKA affiliated club and £9 for all other runners entry on the day is £10 and £12 respectively. All finishers will receive a race memento.

The club would like to thank their race sponsors Quick Pavé Revive for their continuing support.

Royal Manor of Portland Athletics Club was founded in 1983 and caters for all ages and abilities.

The club is affiliated with UK Athletics and has in excess of 80 members who meet up to 3 times per week.

Give it a try, whatever your running pace may be, you don't have to be a fast runner we cater for runners of all speeds.

Dorset Football round-up

Portland United crowned champions

PORTLAND United retained the Dorset Premier Division title with a 4-3 win at Mere Town on Monday. Injured Skipper Lewis Whetton was summoned from the bench and netted the all-important winner eight minutes from time.

Earlier a Ross Doidge double had put the visitors in control at the interval.

Mere pulled one back only for Ash Smith to restored the two-goal advantage.

But the plucky hosts bagged two in a five-minute purple patch before Whyton intervened late-on.

The title-clinching win was set-up by second-half goals on Saturday from Alex Halloran (65th) and Adam Linaker (75th) gave them a 2-0 win over visitors Parley Sports.

The Blues complete a superb season on Saturday when they entertain third placed Merley Cobham Sports who could snatch runners-up spot from WEYMOUTH RESERVES with a victory.

Senior League

Chickerell United stay in third spot following their 4-0 victory against their hosts Okeford United.

Division Two

REDLANDS FC move into fourth place following their 4-1 victory at champions Lytchett Red Triangle thanks to PORTLAND TOWN'S 3-1 win at Parley Sports Reserves.

Town, who remain sixth, scored through Paul Cole, Luke Morley and Daniel Sheppard whilst Lee White netted Sports consolation.

WYKE REGIS SOCIAL CLUB beat their visitors Gillingham Town A 4-0 with goals from Sheon McBride, Darren Webb, Phil Smith and Lee Rockingham

Meanwhile, CHICKERELL UNITED RESERVES went down 2-0 at Wareham Rangers Reserves.

Division Three

HANDLEY Sports and Maiden Newton & Cattistock shared two goals and the points.

Division Four

PUDDLETOWN moved back to the top following their 7-3 home success over South Cheriton Reserves with Matt Rimmer and Iain Travers both netting braces and one for Matt Moors, Adam Sargent and Eliott Byerly.

WEYMOUTH SPARTAN RESERVES remain third after beating fourth placed AFC Cobham Reserves 6-1.

Division Five

PORTLAND UNITED YOUTH won Division Five at the first attempt after a 3-1 victory at Marnhull.

Weymouth 5-a-side Indoor leagues

WHILST The Belvedere look to have wrapped up the title in the Weymouth Monday 5 a side league – sitting five points clear after their latest magnificent victory, 11-1 over strugglers Hardly Athletic, but there is quite a race for second spot.

Three sides are separated by just one point in the thrilling battle for runners-up, and all of them won again, with Mellissa Sports impressively overcoming Bayern Munchies 3-1 in the pick of the results.

Elsewhere, Misfits all but settled the battle for mid-table by beating Space Invaderz 7-3 as Mark Simpson starred.

In the Thursday competition Kush FC will still fancy their chances of taking the title as the season reaches its halfway point.

This week they had Kyle Holmes to thank for their 9-4 thumping of Ultima Itaque, while John Greys continue to struggle at the wrong end of the table and were beaten 6-2 by Fire Breathing Ducksies.

Weymouth & District Table Tennis League

Trio remain undefeated throughout season

THREE players, one from each division of the Weymouth & District Table Tennis League, remain with 100 per cent records as the season comes to a close.

Whilst it is possible that Division One's Simon Joslin of Hawks could lose his 29 game unbeaten run in the last game of the season against Red Triangle A, Preston B's John Ryan (30 games) and Derek Wheeler of Shipton Gorge C (21 games) in Division 2 and 3 respectively have completed their fixtures.

This is quite some achievement considering the standard of the play within the leagues this year.

Despite one or two matches still to be played, the positions at the top and bottom of each division have been decided, with statistically over 8,600 games played.

Division 1

THIS year's champions are Wyke A with YMCA having to settle for runners-up for the third year running.

Red Triangle got off to a very slow start this year and still have two games to play whilst bottom side Springfield C have struggled to field a full side for some of their matches but they have played all their matches

Springfield C.....	16	171	424	171

Division 2

BUDMOUTH A completed double promotion by winning Division 2 after topping Division 3 last season, but the question is, can they win Division 1 next year?

Pilgrims A had a mathematical chance to win it going into their last match against Budmouth B needing to gain 26 points from the match.

But they came up against the unstoppable and very competitive John Ryan who managed to win all his matches to leave Pilgrims disappointed.

This was a particularly close league with four teams in the running for top spot going into the last matches.

Division Two	Pld	F	A	Pts
Budmouth A.....	18	427	247	442
Pilgrims A.....	18	419	230	434

Preston C.....	18	284	407	289

Division 3

BUDMOUTH C completed a double for the club by taking Division 3 by a 31 point margin.

However, the most pleasing performance of all was the fourth position of the youngsters from All Saints school who, after a shaky start, managed to climb the league steadily.

Preston D played them in their first match of the season and the return almost their last, and there was a huge difference in the standard of their play.

Dorset Youth Service B finished bottom this year due to the fact that they were coaching youngsters through the season.

Division Three	Pld	F	A	Pts

Dorset Youth Serv B.....	16	213	355	219

IT has been an entertaining season with the youth players of Budmouth and All Saints showing the older school how to do it, not only in the league but on the county scene too.

That was confirmed when Colliton C just couldn't cope with Budmouth D in the final of the Handicap Cup last week which resulted in a 5-0 white-wash for the young guns who played extremely well.

Such was their superiority that the handicaps didn't really make a difference; only one of the ten legs would have gone to Colliton if there had been no handicap at all; the Colliton players making far too many mistakes whilst the Budmouth youngsters didn't make many.

Will Joliffe beat Peter Loakes and Katherine Bundy both 2-0, whilst Ethan Gear beat Bundy and Andy Ray without losing a game.

Snigdha Maganti also beat Ray 2-0 but was not required again because of their unassailable lead.

The AGM is due to be held on Wednesday, May 21st at the Springfield club on Dorchester Road.

All players are invited to attend and the prize giving for the league will take place at the same time.

Nominations for the post of league secretary and treasurer are invited.

If you would like to stand for either of these posts, or would like to nominate somebody, then please contact Andy Millar or any member of the committee via the WEYTTL website.

Cricket - A View From the boundary

WITH STUART BROOM

Century opening stand for Dorch

Dinnison off to a flier with half dozen scalps - Runyard runs through Bruton

DESPITE glorious sunshine for the opening day of the new cricket season, several games had to be cancelled due to wet pitches.

The terrific floods of the winter has meant that the ground has not recovered enough yet and rain in the lead up last week left several wickets still too wet to play on with local games at Beaminster, Bridport and Symene all affected.

Fortunately Cattistock's investment in covers over the winter paid dividends, and the game against Beaminster was switched so it could be played with Cattistock victorious.

Weymouth could not stop Parley continuing where they left off last season by winning, but there was cheer for both Dorchester and Martinstown who both won.

Dorset Funeral Plan League Premier League1
PARLEY 118-4 BEAT WEYMOUTH 117 ALL OUT BY 6 WICKETS

DESPITE Matt Lawes (2-33) trapping Rob Viney lbw with the second ball of Parley's reply, Weymouth could not contain the league champions who opened the new season with a comfortable six wicket win over Weymouth at Dean Park, as Tom Jacques (54) and Adam Cocking (34) put on 97 for the second wicket.

On a slow wicket Weymouth's new skipper Kieron Womble decided to bat and although Lawes (19) and Womble (21) put up good resistance early on, the introduction of left arm spinner Dominic Clutterbuck (4-19) ripped out the middle order, although Tom England gathered 21 before he was run out.

Weymouth found it difficult to get the ball off the square using all but four of their 50 over allocation to reach 117 all out.

Womble said: "It was a difficult start. The wicket and outfield were both slow and with the batsmen a bit out of form due to lack of game time we found it very difficult to get the ball away, although the fact that we used up almost 46 overs showed some resilience.

"However we bowled quite well at times and with another 50 more runs it might have made it interesting.

Matt claimed a wicket a wicket with his second ball which was encouraging and we kept chipping away, but I was very impressed with everyone's attitude which was positive and their commitment which bodes well for the season."

Premier League 2
SHROTON 40 ALL OUT LOST TO DORCHESTER 241 ALL OUT BY 201 RUNS

DORCHESTER made the best possible start to regaining their place in the Dorset Premier League 1 with a convincing 201 run win over Shroton.

Having set the hosts a target of 242 to win skipper Dan Belt and James Dunham bagged four wickets apiece as they dismissed them for just 40 all out.

Vice-captain Pete Moxom (52) and will Caldwell gave the county town a superb start with an opening stand of 114, and with debutant Fergus Guppy (34) and Belt (32) to follow they reached 191-3 before the home bowlers started to gain a foothold.

However, Sean Fitzgerald weighed in with a late 25 and with 44 extras, Dorchester cruised to 241 all out.

Shroton were on the back foot from the first ball of their innings when Belt (4-13 from six overs) had Lowe caught behind by Fitzgerald, and at 7-3 the writing was on the wall. Only opener M Doble with 17 mustered any resistance, extras with 12 being the next highest score and with Dunham (4-19 from seven overs) and Aussie debutant Eamonn Scott (2-4) also in top form, Shroton capitulated in just 15 overs.

Belt who is hoping his side can bounce back at the first attempt said: "You couldn't have asked for a much better start really. Right from the first ball with Pete and Will putting on over a hundred, and from then on a few of us getting a few as well pushed us towards the 240 total which was good; I was pleased with anything over 200 because it was a wet wicket, very slow and green.

"Then with me getting a wicket with the first ball it set the tone for the innings really and from then on we picked up wickets regularly.

"It's hard to judge the performance against the rest of the season at this stage, as it was a wet wicket and we can't expect every game to be that easy.

"Obviously we have the benefit having come down a league, so it will be interesting to see how we do this Saturday against Blandford."

SHERBORNE 134 ALL OUT LOST TO MARTINSTOWN 138-7 BY 3 WICKETS

MARTINSTOWN made a brilliant start to their season in Premier League 2.

Despite having finished fourth in the old Division

One they did not win any of the five games they played against the three sides that finished above them; something that they were disappointed not to have done.

They put that right on Saturday when they visited Sherborne who won their league, and came away with a very well earned three wicket victory.

Winning the toss new skipper Ed Nichols invited Sherborne to bat on a damp wicket. Despite a good opening 16 over spell from Luke Read (1-35) and Teddy Andrews (2-24), Sherborne openers Luke Hancock and Andrew Nurton had made a steady putting on 45.

However, the introduction of the spinners saw the breakthrough with Josh Ashton (2-22) claiming both before Lock fell to Jamie Crawford (1-31).

Ryan Chase (4-16 from 10 overs) then claimed two victims in his first over, another in his second and then a fourth as Sherborne slumped to 85-7.

Tim Durston (27) and Paul Hancock (10 not out) launched a mini revival which was halted by a Read yorker, before Andrews returned to mop up the tail to leave Sherborne 134 all out.

Nichols (7) and Dave Herbert (16) gave Martinstown a solid start before Nurton (2-23) removed them both and when Sam Kershaw departed without scoring, they were in a little trouble at 33-3.

Lee House (14) and Tom Adams (43) steadied the ship with a consolidating partnership before another flurry of wickets left it to Crawford (15 not out) and Chase (6 not out) to see them home with 12 overs to spare.

Nichols said: "We are delighted to finally beat one of the best sides in the division; it was like getting a monkey off our backs. It was a difficult wicket; the type which we don't usually excel on.

"The seamers (Read and Andrews) bowled well early on without much reward, but Ryan Chase's spin bowling was the highlight. His control, flight and turn were outstanding.

"It was a bit nervy chasing on that wicket, but the batsmen were positive and Tom Adams responded with a responsible innings when it was needed."

County Division Two
BEAMINSTER 131 ALL OUT LOST TO CATTISTOCK 208 ALL OUT BY 77 RUNS

CATTISTOCK benefitted from the new covers they purchased in the summer by being able to switch their opening fixture to their ground after the Memorial Ground wicket was deemed too wet.

Beaminster won the toss and elected to field and some tight bowling from Ade Phillips (1-25) and Ross Baker (1-33) saw Cattistock's openers Jon Legg (32) and Martin Langford (8) struggling for runs and after 20 overs the hosts were 62-2 with one wicket each for the opening bowlers.

Leg spinner Jack Walklett (2-56) came on and bowled excellently in his opening spell to remove Mark Walbridge and captain Ben Golledge each for a single leaving Cattistock on 90-4.

Mike White was then joined by Matt Damen whose aggressive play saw the ball smashed to all parts of the ground, scoring heavily off of Beaminster's spinners.

They added 107 for the fifth wicket before Damen was dismissed for 51 (6 sixes and 2 fours) by Dave Percy (2-10) who also finally bowled Weymouth for a superb 89 which included 3 sixes and 8 fours.

Simon Jones (3-22) weighed in as they cleaned out the Cattistock tail and the innings closed on 208 in the last over.

In reply Jones and Dan Hillier negotiated the opening bowlers comfortably and took the score up to 41 before Hillier (19) was bowled by Martin Langford (2-15 off 10 overs).

But the rest of the batsmen struggled against Legg (3-18), Buddy Langford (2-7) and Damen (2-9), particularly when Jones was dismissed for 32 with only skipper Rich Runyard (23) managing a respectable score as the Beaminster's innings closed on 131.

DORCHESTER 2ND 67 ALL OUT LOST TO PORTLAND RT 160 ALL OUT BY 93 RUNS

DORCHESTER 2nds packed with young players crashed to defeat against Portland RT. Their cause wasn't helped by captain Stuart Beasley picking up a side strain after five overs which will see him sidelined this Saturday at least.

Portland RT had Simon Proffitt to thank for their total; he made 75 but was dropped when on 30. Although Dorchester fielded and bowled well, particularly Pete Phillips who took four wickets, they didn't have the experience to deal with the visitors.

PORTLAND RT 2ND 160-5 BEAT COFE MULLEN 2ND 156-5 BY 5 WICKETS

PORTLAND RT 2nds got their season off to the best possible start with a comfortable win against Corfe Mullen 2nds, although things didn't begin well for Triangle as influential skipper Grant Neven had to withdraw from the game with a stomach bug minutes before the start.

Having elected to bat Corfe lost a wicket in the second over to a fine catch from Lawry West off the bowling of veteran Jodie Locke and they continued to find runs hard to come by as Tom Dalkins (8-3-13-0) produced an excellent spell.

Some heavy hitting from Bolt (30) and Thompson (25) however in the last five overs enabled Corfe to post a respectable 156-5.

Portland's openers West (14) and David Males (34) got Portland's reply of to a steady start as they keep up with the required run rate.

Chris Theakstone (72) then produced a cultured innings that never left the result in doubt and despite losing more wickets it was left to Dalkins (4 no) to hit the winning runs with powerful drive to the boundary with 6 overs to spare.

Skipper Grant Neven was impressed with an excellent all round display and added: "A good win to start the season. Although credit to both Tom and Chris, but saying that the whole team produced the goods. Luke Strong (4-0-8-0) bowled well on his debut and Tony Morris (5-0-21-2) has given the regular bowlers something to think about.

"We were a little rusty at times and will need to improve week in week out; a task that I feel all are up to."

County Division Five
CHARLTON DOWN 155-5 BEAT CHALKE VALLEY 154 ALL OUT BY 5 WICKETS

CHARLTON DOWN opened their 2014 season with a crushing five wicket victory over last season's Division Six champions Chalke Valley who had narrowly pipped them to the title.

Electing to bat Chalke Valley was soon in trouble; Matt Stevens bowling the dangerous Hitchings. Captain Andy Mercer (12) after bringing up the Valley 50 then fell to debutant Rich Fagence (4-35) caught at mid off by Tommy Tucker, and his tight bowling together with Nick Voss (1-16) meant the Valley batsmen could not build partnerships and wickets fell at regular intervals.

A fantastic two handed diving catch by Jae Miller at mid on to remove Goodchild, and the wicket of Butler (8), bowled by another debutant Kim Park (1-41) saw the visitors on 110-5. Some hard hitting from Giles Willoughby took then to 130-5 after 25 overs with a big score looking imminent but the introduction of Tucker (2-3) brought the end of Willoughby (39) bowled through the gate, soon followed by Hill in a double wicket maiden, to leave the score on 138-8. Stevens and Voss then returned to claim a wicket each with Miller producing another great one handed catch to end Chalke Valley's innings at 154 all out in the 32nd over.

Charlton Down needed a solid opening batting performance to dent the renowned bowling attack and debutant James Franzen (17) and Miller did a great job putting on 43 before Franzen was brilliantly caught. Miller (26) brought up the Charlton 50 with a delightful cover drive to the boundary in the 10th over but top edged a ball to leave then 69-2.

The match winning partnership of 54 came from the talented 16 year old Matt Stevens (24) and experienced Javed Gill (39). Stevens played solidly and produced some elegant driving off front and back feet until he was adjudged lbw to Willoughby on 123-3 before Jack Eveleigh was dismissed following a brilliant catch from wicketkeeper.

Gill followed in the next over, spooning a catch to mid off at 139-5 but his dogged defence mixed with explosive hitting had already done the damage, and it was left to John Clancy and Kim Park to knock off the remaining runs in only the 26th over and seal an emphatic victory.

Captain Tommy Tucker said: "What a great start to the season and opening fixtures don't come harder than this one after they thrashed us last year and went onto win the league.

"It was great to see the evergreen Rich Fagence making his Saturday debut, helped by some great catches by Jae Miller.

"The young bowlers Matt Stevens and Nick Voss bowled really well and Rob Deadman behind the stumps produced a great performance.

The batting was good to watch as Javed Gill and Matt Stevens 54 run partnership sealed the win. But Franzen and Miller nullified the good early bowling attack which fell away badly as the winning post grew nearer, producing 40 wides!"

CHAMPIONS Broadwindsor showed last season's Division Two winners that life won't be easy in the top echelon.

Captain Adie Phillips (3-22) won the toss and invited Bruton to bat and along with Richie Runyard with an early flier (5-31) skittled them out for 97.

Chris Park (48 not out) and Steve Phillips (36 not out) showed promising early form with the bat to knock the runs off in less than 20 overs.

Top three batsmen: Mike White (Cattistock) 89; Chris Theakstone (Portland RT 2nd) 72; Pete Moxom (Dorchester) 52.

Top three bowlers: Richie Runyard (Broadwindsor) 5-31; Dan Belt (Dorchester) 4-13; Ryan Chase (Martinstown) 4-16.

UPLYME & LYME REGIS 2NDS 40-3 BEAT HONITON 2NDS 39 ALL OUT BY SEVEN WICKETS

A HONITON XI were dismissed for 39 at Uplyme in the first Devon League match of the season.

Unable to host the corresponding 1st XI fixture at Honiton due to a wet wicket, the visitors brought over a strong XI for the reverse 2nd XI game.

Uplyme countered in turn by including their two Australian players, Nick Dennison and Charlie Warner. And it was Dennison with his left arm fast medium pace who ripped through the Honiton top order with an opening spell that returned superb figures of 6 overs, 3 maidens 6 wickets for 5 runs.

Only opener Pete Matraver showed any resistance to Dennison's pace but when he went, brilliantly caught at third slip, by colt Wesley Holmes a collapse followed and Honiton slumped from 20 for 3 to 39 all out.

Wallace Blackmore acted as support bowler and chipped in with one for 21 from his six overs whilst young Daley Holmes mopped up the tail with figures of 2 for 9. The remaining wicket was a run out well executed by Steve Batey and wicket keeper Alfie Bell-worthy Eddie Clarke and Tyler Wellman made a steady start in reply against the pace of Kev Kelly and the experience of Phil Tansley.

Wellman mistimed a drive on the drying wicket and was caught in the covers for 8.

Dave Norman then went without scoring with the score on 11, giving Honiton hope of further wickets.

This was soon ended as Wesley Holmes came to the wicket intent on taking the game to them. He was quickly onto the front foot hitting the ball down the ground and took the score up to 33 before the watchful innings of Clarke came to an end adjudged lbw to Tansley.

The game ended in style when Alfie Bellworthy placed the ball over the pavilion for six to claim the first cheese of the season donated by Town Mill Cheesemonger and club sponsor Justin Tunstall.

Uplyme 2nd XI claimed 21 points whilst the 1st XI had to be content with 6pts for the cancelled game.

On Saturday the 1st XI are home to Babbacombe and the 2nd XI are away to Shobrook Park.

Net practice will take place from 5:30pm tonight (Wednesday) at the ground.

Any new members are welcome to come along and join the club.

Johnson shines in first England triumph

CHARLOTTE Johnson was the toast of the dressing room recently after England won the Bob Docherty Trophy for the first time in their history.

The Sir John Colfox Year 11 pupil produced three stupendous saves in the penalty shoot-out that saw England go on to beat The Republic of Ireland in the final of what is essentially a version of the old British Home Championship that used to be played by the four UK countries senior mens teams.

Charlotte who plays centre back for the Dorset Under 15s girls earned her first England call-up in March against the Republic of Ireland before being selected for the Bob Docherty tournament at Repton School in Derbyshire last month.

After beating Wales 2-0 in the first game in which Johnson was not unduly overworked, she came to the fore in the second game against Scotland when with the game locked at 2-2 after 90 minutes penalties followed.

Having saved the second and the crucial fifth spot-kick which would have handed Scotland victory, she then saved the sixth and decisive one.

In the final it was fairly plain sailing again for England as they swept the Republic of Ireland aside to win 3-0.

Since then Johnson has played a fifth game for her country in the 1-1 draw with Scotland.

The 15-year-old, who is multi-talented in that she has achieved Grade 8 on the alto-sax which allows her to teach the instrument, started playing football at the age of five.

Championship double for Beaminster school

BEAMINSTER School had reason for a double celebration when both Year 7 and Year 10 football teams won the South West Dorset Schools Football Championships.

Year 7: Beaminster 2 Budmouth 1

HAVING beaten Dorchester Middle School and Colfox School in the later stages, the Year 7 team played Budmouth School in the final at the Bob Lucas Stadium on Monday last week.

Beaminster took the lead when they were awarded a penalty when Lewis Keenan was fouled. Captain George Calverley stepped up to score from the spot, but straight from the kick-off Budmouth equalised to make it 1-1 at half-time.

Lewis Keenan neatly chipped the goalkeeper for what proved to be the winner. James Wagstaff, Head of PE said: "This is the most talented team I have seen at Beaminster School and I'm really looking forward to more success in the years to come."

Year 10: Beaminster 2 All Saints, Weymouth 1

IT was a case of third time lucky for the Year 10 team who had been runners-up twice before. Having beaten Thomas Hardy and Budmouth in the quarter and semi-finals they faced Weymouth's All Saints in the final.

The Weymouth-based Saints led 1-0 at half time. But Adam Harris headed home the equaliser to bring the score level as Beaminster took control.

A brilliant piece of individual skill from Solly Ayunga saw him beat three players before he was fouled in the penalty box. He got up and netted the spot kick to give Beaminster the victory.

Mr Wagstaff, said: "This is a fantastic achievement for such a small school competing against all the other schools in the area."

Squad: Aiden Trocian, Adam Harris, Henry Bowditch, Gundy Suleyman, Andrew Woods, Tom Clapp, Solly Ayunga, Solo Roper, Joachim Wood, Josh Hull, William Trocian, Blu Welsh, Michael Hill, Sam Robinson, Kieran Park.

Chief guest at Juniors Blues celebrations

FORMER Bridport Junior player Haydn Thomas was the guest of honour when Bridport Rugby Club's section celebrated the season on Friday night with their Annual Presentation Evening. Thomas, who now plays for Exeter Chiefs and has also represented England presented every member with a trophy for playing during the season.

Each team also had a trophy presented to their most improved player and the coaches' player, along with each team voting for their players' player.

The players and guests then enjoyed a hog roast prepared by club caterer, Tracey Lavis of Bridport Hog Roasts, which rounded off another successful season.

Training for the juniors resumes in the summer with registration for the new season at the beginning of September.

Parkman secures Chesil championship

WITH easing winds and only a few scattered showers, the improving weather tempted 62 anglers to fish this year's Chesil Championships.

The fishing proved to be good for half the anglers with Bexington producing plenty of dogfish and a few smoothounds, whilst an 8lb small-eyed ray was caught from Cogden.

However after six hours of fishing it was Gus Parkman who claimed victory with 8750g of fish and top prize of £225 plus £150 pool and a rod. He was closely followed by Paul House who won £150 plus £90 pool, with a catch of 8240g with Terry Hartnell claiming third prize of £100 plus £60 pool.

Despite not winning the main prizes, three ladies battled it out for their £50 prize with Lynn Mudford winning with two dogfish, and from the four juniors competing, Connor Hallett took the best junior prize which won him a tackle voucher plus fishing reels

There was £62 up for grabs for each of the heaviest round fish and flatfish pools which were won by L Downton with a 115g dab, and M Ayles' 3735g small eyed ray respectively.

The club would like to thank to the generous sponsorship this year from Chris Chappell of Seaton Angling Centre and Nathan Cox of www.rodringsandthings.co.uk; the prize table creaking with nearly £1000 in cash paid out, inclusive of pools.

Fishing prizes were also awarded down to 10th place with additional prizes for best lady and junior and the presentation ended with a good selection of prizes from the raffle table.

Thanks go to Style Tiles for putting up the ladies prize and the club would also like to extend their sincere gratitude to all at Freshwater Beach Holiday Park for the use of their excellent facilities.

Prize winners with results:

1st: G Parkman 8750g, 2nd: P House 8240g, 3rd: T Hartnell 6690g, Heaviest round pool: M.Ayles 3735 g small eyed ray, Heaviest flat pool: L. Downton 115 g dab, Best lady: Lynn Mudford, Best junior: Connor Hallett.

Bridport target title after taming Cougars

3rds safe following draw

MILBORNE SPORTS 1 BRIDPORT THIRDS 1

BOOSTED by first teamers Matt Morley and Shane Evans, Bridport 3rds made absolutely certain they would retain Dorset Division One status next season with a well earned point at Milborne Sports last week.

The Bees received a setback on 15 minutes when Ashley Walkey had to be taken to hospital with a broken wrist, but they took the lead midway through the first-half through Morley who seized on a defensive slip to run at goal - the tricky winger rounded the keeper and covering defenders in a mazy dribble to score.

Milborne deservedly equalised midway through the second-half following a spell of pressure on the Bees defence, but Bridport could have won the game. Evans headed over from a corner and Morley produced two enticing crosses but there was no one there to take advantage.

WEYMOUTH COUGARS 2 BRIDPORT U17s 5

In the second of three play-off games to determine the winners of this year's U17s league, Bridport travelled to face a Weymouth side who, after last week's defeat to Sherborne, knew only a win could keep their hopes alive.

Bridport opened the scoring when Sam Tabner made contact with a Jonah Ayunga cross to give Bridport the lead. Inspired, they pressed on and their efforts were rewarded when Fred Warren calmly found the bottom corner. This two-goal cushion was short lived as Cougars reduced the arrears to 2-1 at the interval.

Bridport extended their lead when Ayunga cut inside and smashed ed the ball into the back of the net.

Cougars failed to respond and within five minutes Bridport had scored again as Ayunga slipped the ball to Olly Woodcock who netted to make it 4-1.

Cougars fought back and broke Bridport's otherwise solid, defensive line to narrow the gap only for Tabner to pick out Ayunga who delicately dinked it over the keeper.

Manager Terry Warren said: "This was definitely one of our best games. The boys worked hard and stuck to the game plan; I'm really proud of them. Weymouth are a good team but we were unlucky not to put another four or five past them."

This victory means that Bridport's game on Sunday against Sherborne at Bridport's St Mary's Field will act as a cup final for the league; a large crowd would be appreciated.

Hathway gets county South West championship call-up

BILLY Hathway has been selected to represent Dorset in the SWCGA Under 14/16 Strokeplay Championships at Taunton Vale Golf Club on May 30th.

The championship consists of teams from Devon, Somerset, Cornwall, Wiltshire, Gloucestershire and Dorset with the best seven gross scores counting together with individual awards for both under age groups including the prestigious Ian Clark Trophy for under 14s.

Sharon Rand (93-23-70) won the Coronation Salver from Sally Davis Gross (84-13-71) with Julia Miles (107-36-71) third on count back.

Maria Woodham won the Wilson Cup with 35 points, with Jackie Taylor runner-up on 33pts after count back.

The Ladies Granny Plate Stableford saw Dilys Grant win with 30pts, with Jennifer Kimberley who designed and painted the trophy just a point behind in second. With just one point separating the top six grannies across the two divisions, this is obviously a much sought after trophy.

Nobby Clark (74-5-69) won the April Tankard which means it will be Gary King who will be playing with Des Lochrie in the Lombard Trophy at either Parkstone or Burnham & Berrow.

Division One: 1st: M Clark - Nett 69; 2nd: S Roles - Nett 69; 3rd: S Howard - Nett 72
Division Two: 1st: P Dagger - Nett 69; 2nd: A Turrell - Nett 70; 3rd: E Carter - Nett 72

Division Three: 1st: G Davidson - Nett 74; 2nd: J Hicks - Nett 77; 3rd: J

Mockford - Nett 80

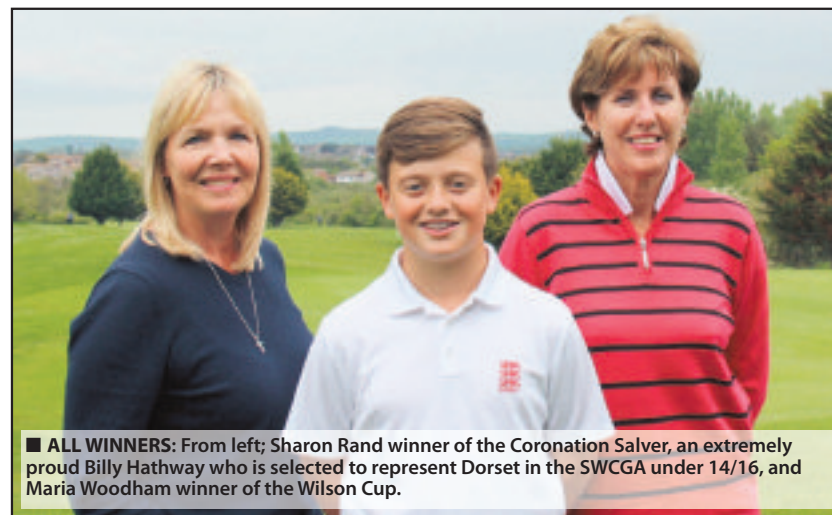

A very competitive Centurion Trophy 4BBB was won by Tim Stevens and Paul Dashwood who beat last year's Charity Week 4BBB winners Frank Martin and Don Philpott on the back nine with both teams finishing on 41 points.

The first seniors Stableford took place last week and was won by Richard Tucker with a massive 43 points.

There was a four-way battle in Division Two with back nine scores having to be decided for the top three places.

Division One: 1st: R Tucker - 43pts; 2nd: J Rudall - 36pts; 3rd: R Taylor - 35pts

Division Two: 1st: J Everett - 33pts; 2nd: N McColm - 33pts; 3rd: M Lee - 33pts

LONGS FISH AND CHIPS RESTAURANT

More than just Fish and Chips'

Be sure to visit Longs on West Street, Bridport, for great quality, traditional Fish and Chips

SUE has been the manager in the Longs West Street branch for the past 4 years, but has been working there for 25 years, so knows all about maintaining the high standards set by Longs.

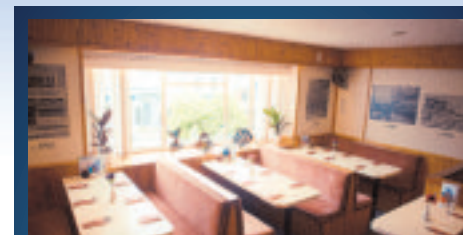

Sue and her team have helped to keep the traditional values of the great British fish and chip shop, as well keeping up with modern demands, including some delicious vegetarian options that have been introduced to the menu. Longs have a great reputation locally and are famed for their home made faggots. Customers can reminisce about the old days when they would line up with their bowl to get faggots, chips, peas and gravy. The trip down memory lane continues at the West Street shop if you dine upstairs in their restaurant, which can cater for up to 42 people. The walls are lined with old photos of Bridport and Longs itself, so while you dine over-looking the famous market town, you can see how much it's changed.

Longs only use the finest quality ingredients and are big supporters of sustainable fishing. All the cod is skinless and boneless, and is from a sustainable source.

The West Street shop is open every day, including Sundays, from 5pm. Be sure to visit soon for the best quality, traditional fish and chips.
